ANCIENT COINS ASSOCIATED WITH JEWISH AND CHRISTIAN HISTORICAL EVENTS

By S. J. SCHILLINGER, Marysville, Ohio

(A PAPER PRESENTED TO THE 1951 A.N.A. CONVENTION)

After collecting quite a few denarii of the Roman Empire, the idea was conceived of making a collection of coins closely associated with the Jewish nation and early Christian history.

In collecting these coins, you can gather a miniature art gallery, of a great variety of designs. The artistry of these coins are tops, for they are mostly the work of Greek engravers.

After some study of the moneys of those times, one learns, among other things, that coins of the Roman Empire usually bore the head and name of the ruler then in power.

In Judaea, the Herodian rulers, as well as the Roman procurators, struck coins, and these humble bits of copper are monuments to the accuracy and harmony of the Gospels. Many of the pieces are dated and it is interesting to observe that the Jews, in deference to the Second Commandment, did not, except in a few instances, put the images of persons on their coins.

Have you ever wondered what coins Joseph used to pay the tribute to Rome, when he and Mary went to Bethlehem to be taxed? Just what was the "Widows Mite"? What was the "Tribute Penny"? What were the silver pieces paid Judas for betraying our Savior?

Every coin issued containing a relationship to Jewish and Christian historical events, have not been secured, but the ones shown, should interest most people.

Referring to the Old Testament we find the people by the name of Hittites frequently mentioned. In the book of Genesis is found the instances where Abraham purchased a burying ground from Ephron the Hittite; and also the instance where Esau took unto himself two Hittite women as his wives. In the book of Joshua, where God promised Joshua the land of the Hittites; in II Samuel, David's dealings with Uriah, the Hittite; and I Kings, Solomon's love for Hittite women.

After the decay of the Hittite Empire, in about the twelfth century B.C., many of the Hittite people bound themselves together, to form new dynasties, and it was in just such a case, that the Lydians came into being. The Lydians occupied the western extremity of the great peninsula of Asia Minor, 750 miles in length and 400 miles in breadth.

Part of the Lydian Empire, around the city of Ephesus was controlled by a nation of women warriors. Here at Ephesus, there was a temple to the goddess Cybele, the mother of gods, and the priestesses by whom she was served are depicted as armed with double-headed axe, and the dances they performed in her honor with shield and bow gave rise to the myths which saw in them the Amazons.

The Lydians are credited with introducing or inventing the game of dice and also coined money. The Lydians, in one sense, a nation of shopkeepers and merchants, were in need of some form of a monetary system in carrying on their trade, as they did not care to barter in merchandise as the Phoenicians, so the invention of coined money is to be credited to them sometime between the seventh and sixth centuries B.C. The custom of the Lydians being to imprint the rude ingot of the precious metal with the official stamp of the state. The ingot being made from the metal coming from the mine, known as electrum. Electrum a natural pale yellow alloy of gold and silver. Later the metal was purified and silver and gold coins came into being. However silver coins were the most popular, silver being the favorite Hittite metal.

We find that Alexander the Great came into contact with the Jews, when he came into Syria after going through Asia doing battle with Darius and his Persian army. Alexander took Damascus and Sidon and finally besieged Tyre. While at Tyre, Alexander sent a letter to the Jewish High Priest named Jaddua, requesting Jaddua to send him auxiliaries and to supply his army with provisions, to send him all presents which the Jews had formerly sent to Darius and also choose the friendship of the Macedonians instead of the Persians. However, Jaddua the High Priest answered Alexander's letter, that the Jews had taken an oath not to bear arms against Darius, and the Jews would not break this oath as long as Darius was in the land of the living.

Upon hearing this answer, Alexander was very angry, and he decided as soon as he was through with the siege at Tyre, he would make an example out of the Jewish High Priest, so that all men might know to whom they should be friends.

So after the seven-month siege of Tyre was over, Alexander made haste to go up to Jerusalem. When Jaddua, the High Priest heard that Alexander was coming, he was very much afraid on account of his disobedience. He therefore ordered all the Jewish people to offer sacrifices to God, whom he besought to protect them from the Macedonians. That night according to Josephus, the great Jewish historian, God warned the High Priest not to be afraid, but to adorn the city and open the gates of Jerusalem to Alexander. The Jews were to appear in white garments and the priests were to wear their regular priestly clothing.

So when Jaddua heard that Alexander was near Jerusalem, the Jews opened their gates and a large crowd went out to meet Alexander. When Alexander saw this large crowd all dressed in white, with the priests clothed in fine linen and the high priest clothed in purple and scarlet with his mitre on his head, having the golden plate whereon the name of God was engraved, Alexander was the first to salute. The Jews also all together, then saluted Alexander.

When the Syrian kings, Phoenicians, Chaldeans and others that followed Alexander saw what had happened, they thought Alexander had gone crazy. These auxiliaries believing Alexander to be very angry at the Jews, thought they were going to have the liberty to torment the High Priest and plunder the city of Jerusalem.

Finally Parmenio, one of Alexander's great generals asked him why all other people adored him, but in this case he adored the Jews. It was then, that Alexander told of a dream he had back in Macedonia before he had invaded Persia, where he saw this High Priest, in the same city, Jerusalem, tell him not to delay the conquest. When he saw Jaddua, he remembered the dream. Therefore he was certain his army had the divine conduct and would conquer Darius and destroy the Persians.

Alexander then extended his right hand to the High Priest in friendship after which he went up into the Temple and offered sacrifice to God, according to the High Priest's direction. And when the Book of Daniel was showed him, wherein Daniel declared that one of the Greeks should destroy the empire of the Persians, Alexander supposed that himself was the person intended.

The next day Alexander called the Jews together and asked them if they had any favors they pleased of him. The High Priest then asked if they might enjoy the laws of their forefathers and might pay no tribute in the seventh year. Alexander granted all their desires, after which many Jews enlisted in his army and accompanied him in his wars.

The coin as shown in figure No. 2 is a Macedonian drachm of Alexander the Great. The obverse shows the youthful head of Heracles covered with a lion's skin, the features resembling those of Alexander himself. The reverse shows, Zeus enthroned and holding a sceptre in one hand and an eagle in the other.

Referring again to Josephus and also to the books of the Maccabees, we find there was a man by the name of Mattathias, who had five sons. Their names were Judas, Jonathan, Eleazar, Simon and John. After the death of Mattathias, his son Judas became High Priest. It was under the Priesthood of Judas in 161 B.C. that the Roman Jewish relations were first started.

Judas hearing of the power of the Romans, who had conquered in war, Galatia, Iberia, Carthage, Libya and Greece, resolved to enter into a league of friendship with them. Therefore he sent several of his Jewish friends to Rome and contacted the Roman senate regarding a league of assistance. This pact was finally drawn up, a copy of which was returned to Judas and it was engraved in brass at Rome.

The pact itself is as follows: "The decree of the senate concerning a league of assistance and friendship with the nation of the Jews. It shall not be lawful for any that are subject to the Romans to make war with the nation of the Jews, nor to assist those that do so, either by sending them corn, or ships, or money; and if any attack be made upon the Jews, the Romans shall assist them, as far as they are able; and again, if any attack be made upon the Romans, the Jews shall assist them. And if the Jews have a mind to add to or to take away anything from, this league of assistance, that shall be done with the common consent of the Romans. And whatsoever addition shall thus be made, it shall be of force."

After the death of Judas, his brother Jonathan became High Priest, and after Jonathan's death, their brother Simon became High Priest. According to Rev. Roger's book, "Handy Guide to Jewish Coins," Simon Maccabaeus struck the first Jewish coins, sometime during the years 141 to 135 B.C.

Contrary to some belief, that coins were struck by the Jews, as far back as King David, is not true. There are specimens of coins of King David in museums. They are copper coins, silver plated, and bear legends in square type Hebrew letters. Numismatists have found, that the square type Hebrew letters were never used on coins and were not used by the Jews until the first century before Christ. Therefore these coins are phantasies.

It is known that the Jews did not strike coins before their Babylonian captivity, and it was while they were in Babylon, they came in contact with coins of the Lydians and Greeks. After their return from Babylon, the Syrian kings did not permit the Jews to strike coins until the time of Simon Maccabaeus, under the reign of the Syrian king by the name of Antiochus VII.

Figures No. 3 and 4 show two different size coins of Simon Maccabaeus. On the obverse of these coins there is a bundle of twigs between citrons, with the Jewish letters meaning "in the 4th year." The fourth year of Simon Maccabaeus' reign, starting in 141 B.C., means that these coins were struck in 137 B.C. On the reverse of these coins, there is a Chalice with the Jewish letters meaning "Of the redemption of Zion." It is interesting to note that basket or bundle of twigs or branches, and the citrons were taken from the Feast of Tabernacles, for the faithful carried the twigs or branches in their right hand and the citron in their left hand to the feast. It is also worth remembering that the recovery of the Temple and the fortification of Zion was marked by a solemn celebration of the Feast of Tabernacles, according to II Maccabees, chapter X, verses 5 to 8.

It is also interesting to note that Simon Maccabaeus placed a Chalice on the reverse of these coins to indicate his priesthood.

Figure No. 5 is a Jewish lepton of Antiochus VII of Syria, the man that permitted Simon Maccabaeus to strike the first Jewish coins. This coin was struck in Jerusalem sometime during the years 132 to 131 B.C. On the obverse is shown a lily, while on the reverse there is an anchor with the legend "King Antiochus the Benefactor."

After Simon's death his son John Hyrcanus became High Priest. In 135 B.C., we again find the Jews desirous of renewing their league of friendship with the Romans. Therefore Hyrcanus sent delegates to Rome, where they were received by Marcus Fanius, then Praetor.

Fanius gathered the senate together, and on the eighth day before the Ides of February, the Romans and Jews entered into another league of friendship.

The senate also decreed that their Praetor Fanius, should see that the Jewish ambassadors were conducted home safely and that their expenses home, should be paid from the public treasury.

Figure No. 7 shows a lepton or "Widow's Mite" of John Hyrcanus I. On the obverse there is a legend, "The high-priest Jehohanan and the Jewish assembly," in a wreath, and on the reverse a poppy head between a double cornucopiae.

The question might arise, what is a "Widow's Mite"? A widow's mite was a lepton, or the smallest bronze coin struck by the Jewish people. The lepton received the nickname of "Widow's Mite," from the poor widow coming to the Temple with her offering, where she cast into the treasury two mites, all she could afford, all she had.

After the death of Hyrcanus I, his son Judas Aristobulus I, became king for one year.

After Aristobulus died his brother Alexander Jannaeus became king for 27 years. During the reign of Alexander Jannaeus, the Jews greatly prospered, and gained much territory.

When Alexander Jannaeus died, his wife, Alexandra became Queen for a period of nine years. It was during this period that the seeds of civil war were sown.

Figure No. 11 shows a Jewish lepton of Queen Alexandra. On the obverse of this coin there is an anchor, with the legend, "Queen Alexandra," while on the reverse there is a sun with eight rays, with the legend "Queen."

Alexander Jannaeus and Alexandra had two sons. Upon the death of Alexander Jannaeus, the oldest son Hyrcanus II became high priest. However the younger son, Aristobulus II, thought he should become king, and his efforts were favored by his mother Alexandra. Therefore Hyrcanus allied himself with Aretas, king of Arabia. With the aid of Aretas, civil war was started. Finally in the year 65 B.C., Scaurus, the Roman general was sent into Syria by Pompey the Great. Scaurus hearing about the affairs in Judaea, hastened with the hopes of securing a good booty.

As soon as the two brothers heard Scaurus was coming into the country, they sent ambassadors to Scaurus in an effort to gain the Roman assistance. However the three hundred talents offered by Aristobulus carried the most weight with Scaurus. After Scaurus received this sum, he sent messengers to Hyrcanus and Aretas, and notified them to stop the civil war immediately. As Aretas was terrified of the Romans, he retired out of Judaea, back into Arabia.

legend "Alexander Great."

Subsequently the dispute broke out anew and in 63 B.C., when Pompey himself visited Syria, he caused Aristobulus to be arrested, and laid siege to Jerusalem. The party of Hyrcanus soon yielded up the city, but part of the Jews, the followers of Aristobulus took refuge in the Temple, which they defended with the stubborn desperation of their race. The Temple was built on a hill dominating the city, and was surrounded by a fortress with walls of enormous height. Pompey had sent to Tyre for siege engines, which he erected against the rock; but the defenders retorted so furiously with arrows and stones that the operations had been protracted into a long and difficult siege.

The surrender came about at last in a curious manner. Once every seven days Pompey noticed that the besieged seemed to be stupefied into inactivity and allowed the Romans to work unmolested at their engines. Pompey inquired of Hyrcanus, who told him that every seventh day was the Sabbath, the day on which the law obliged the faithful to abstain from all labor, which was interpreted by the devout, included even self-defense. Pompey ordered his soldiers to work only on the Sabbath; he was thus enabled, within three months, to raise his towers up to the height of the wall and to move to the attack. Faustus Sulla, one of Pompey's commanders, and also Pompey's son-in-law, was the first over the ramparts; but there was horrible carnage before the capture was completed. Curious to inspect the sanctuary which had cost him so much pain, Pompey made his way into the inmost shrine of the Temple, where none but the High Priest was allowed to enter. But he looked in vain for a statue or a picture of the Godhead. He admired the strange seven-branched candlesticks, which the Jews seemed specially to venerate, the table of gold, the huge store of incense for worship, and hidden away in the cellars, the store of treasure which should have served to recompense the Roman leginary for his labor. But the God of the Bible then gave not the least striking proof of that power whose fear was soon to be spread so far throughout the world. Alone of all the gods of the Orient, his gold was respected by a Roman adventurer. Pompey was so overcome by the weird fanaticism of his Jewish surroundings that he dared not lay hands on the treasure. After the fall of the Temple, Hyrcanus received the high priesthood, but his dominions were greatly curtailed and the royal dignity was abolished. Jerusalem was occupied by a Roman garrison, and Aristobulus, with his sons, were led captive to Rome.

The denarius of Faustus Cornelius Sulla, as shown in figure No. 15, who was the first man over the walls of Jerusalem, has on the obverse the bust of Diana and on the reverse Sulla, the great dictator, father of Faustus, seated on a raised seat; before him kneels Bocchus, king of Mauretania and behind him kneeling is Jugurtha, king of Numidia.

Figure No. 16 shows a Roman denarius of A. Plautius, another of Pompey's commanders. On the obverse is the bust of Cybele, the mother of Gods and on the reverse is Bacchus of Judaea kneeling beside a camel. Who this Bacchus was, is not recorded in history. However one source says it refers to the submission of King Aretas of Arabia, which has already been mentioned. Other historians claim Bacchus is the Jewish name for Aristobulus, or might have been a Jewish army commander or petty Syrian prince who surrendered to Plautius, one of Pompey's generals.

During the civil war between Hyrcanus and Aristobulus before Pompey conquered the Jews, a man by the name of Antipater, the Idumaean let his support to Hyrcanus and became his confidential friend and advisor, completely directing his policy and exercising a paramount influence in Jewish affairs. By the people Hyrcanus was looked upon as the creature of Antipater and the Romans, and they favored the cause of Aristobulus and his sons in the several revolts headed by them between 57 and 55 B.C. These risings were promptly put down, and the influence of Antipater became stronger than ever. In the year 49 B.C., Julius Caesar commissioned Aristobulus to drive the partisans of Pompey from Syria, but Aristobulus, and his son Alexander were poisoned before the commission could be carried into effect. After the death of Pompey, Antipater gained the good will of Julius Caesar by important services, and both he and his nominal ruler, Hyrcanus, were richly rewarded. Hyrcanus received the hereditary dignity of ethnarch of the Jews, and became the ally of Rome with special privileges, while the plain of Jezreel and the port of Joppa were added to his dominions. Antipater became a Roman citizen and was made procurator of Judaea. A few years later he was poisoned by contrivance of the Sadducees, but their crime availed them nothing. Antipater's son, Herod the Great, whom his father had made governor of Galilee, repressed a fresh attempt of Antigonus, the son of Aristobulus and gained the friendship of the aged Hyrcanus.

Figure No. 17 shows a Roman denarius of Julius Caesar. On the obverse is the bust of Pietas, the god of piety and on the reverse is the name of Caesar with a trophy and an axe.

After the battle of Philippi, 42 B.C., in spite of the opposition of the Jewish aristocracy, Antony made Herod the Great, as he is known, and his brother Phasaelus tetrarchs of Judaea. In 40 B.C. the invasion of Syria by the Parthians, gave Antigonus a new opportunity to assert his pretensions, and the mass of the people took his side. Hyrcanus was sent a captive to Babylonia, Phasaelus slew himself in prison, and Herod fled to Rome; but Antigonus did not long enjoy his success. Through the influence of Antony and Augustus, Herod the Great was named king of the Jews by the Roman senate, and after a three years war he gained possession of his kingdom by the aid of Roman troops. Antigonus was captured and beheaded at Antioch. The first act of the new king was to destroy the power of the Sadducees, many of whom he caused to be executed, and so radical were his measures that thereafter they occupied an insignificant position in political matters. Herod also secured his dynasty by removing from his path all the members of the Hasmonaeen family. He rebuilt the Temple at Jerusalem, conducted extensive building operations in many parts of his kingdom, and was ever solicitous for the welfare of the country under his rule. But though a wise and capable ruler, Herod never gained the good will of his people, and only maintained himself through the power of Rome. His Jewish subjects could never forget his Idumaeen descent, and his overthrow of the Hasmonaeen dynasty.

Also at this time Cleopatra of Egypt wanted to increase her empire. She had disposed of all her relatives and had many other persons slain in her effort to gain more power. To Antony, who was bewitched by his love to Cleopatra and who was entirely conquered by her charms, was given the task of disposing of the principal men of Syria and Arabia.

This Antony complied with in part, but he could not kill his good friend Herod. Although he took parts of his kingdom away from him and gave it to Cleopatra. Later Cleopatra visited Judaea and King Herod gained his lost possessions by paying to Cleopatra a yearly rent of two hundred talents.

Still Cleopatra was not satisfied, she wanted to rule the entire countries of Judaea and Arabia, so when the battle of Actium was started in 31 B.C., she arranged for the Jews and Arabians to have a war, with the hopes that whichever one lost, she would be able to rule over. The Jews finally defeated the Arabians, but Cleopatra's dream never came true, as both Antony and Cleopatra committed suicide after their defeat in the battle of Actium.

After the death of Antony, Herod changed his allegiance to Augustus. Augustus took a liking to Herod, giving him back all the territory which Cleopatra had taken from him, besides additional territory. It is said that Herod was beloved by Augustus next after Agrippa.

It was during the reign of Herod the Great, and while Augustus was Emperor of Rome, in 5 B.C., according to Dr. Verkuyl, that our Lord Jesus was born.

Figure No. 19 shows a Roman denarius of Caesar Augustus. On the obverse is found the portrait of Augustus, while on the reverse there is a bull standing. This coin was struck somewhere in the east during the years 27 to 20 B.C. Just such a coin was commonly used by the people of Judaea to pay their head tax to Rome and was probably the type of money used by Joseph when he and Mary went to Bethlehem to be taxed.

The birth of Jesus did not please Herod. According to St. Matthew, chapter 2, the Wise Men came to Herod and asked him where the infant Jesus was to be found. Herod sent them to Bethlehem saying "Go and find out every particular about the child and when you have learned this, report to me so that I too may come and do Him homage."

Coins of Herod the Great and his successors were all of copper. The specimen as shown in figure No. 20 of Herod the Great is a "Widow's Mite" with an anchor on the obverse and a caduceus between a double cornucopiae on the reverse. The legend on the obverse says "King Herod, year three."

The question now arises, in what form was the gold brought Jesus by the Wise Men? These Wise Men were not sorcerers, conjurers, soothsayers or magicians. Their popular designation as wise men or magi well defines what they really were. The word used means that they were astronomers, and this helps to determine the part of the east from which they came. This could not have been Arabia, nor Medo-Persia, for these countries had no astronomers. These magi hailed from Babylon, where since the most ancient times astronomy was sedulously pursued.

Many fancies have been spun in later times about these magi. We do not know that they were three in number, an idea which comes merely from the three kinds of gifts which they brought, of gold, frankincense and myrrh.

It is logical to suppose that the gold consisted of coins as well as other gifts, because coins would be God's provision for the flight of Joseph, Mary and baby Jesus into Egypt, which took place shortly afterwards.

Since these Wise Men came from Babylon, and if part of the gold was in coin form as supposed, it is very likely the coins would have been Macedonian staters of Alexander the Great, as these coins were in circulation in Babylon at this time.

Herod died in the year 4 B.C. Jesus at this time was about four months old. Jesus and his parents were at this time residing in Egypt, because they had to leave Bethlehem to save Jesus' life on account Herod slew all the male children two years old and under.

Herod Archelaus was the son of Herod the Great. He was brought up at Rome and originally cut out of his father's will at the instance of his eldest brother Antipater. Herod, however, made a change in his will, and Archelaus succeeded him. His accession was stoutly opposed and it was only after the massacre of 3000 of his enemies, that he made his position sure. Refusing to accept the title "King" from anyone except Augustus, he went to Rome to plead his cause against his brother Antipas and other rivals. Augustus confirmed him in his kingdom with the title Ethnarch which appears on his coins and means the ruler of the nation.

It was through fear of him, that Joseph and Mary with Jesus upon their return from Egypt after the death of Herod the Great, turned aside and dwelt at Nazareth in Galilee. This is the only direct reference to him in the Holy Scripture.

Archelaus' cruelty and utter disregard for Jewish law and customs caused the Jews to greatly hate him, causing such frequent complaints to be made to the Emperor, that finally Augustus summoned him to Rome in 6 A.D., and banished him to Vienne, where he died. His kingdom was confiscated and put under the administration of a Roman Procurator.

The quadrans' as shown in figures No. 22 and No. 23 are coins of Herod Archelaus. Figure No. 22 shows on the obverse a prow of a ship, with the legend "Herod the Ethnarch," while on the reverse the legend "Herod the Ethnarch" is within a wreath. Figure No. 23 shows on the obverse a bunch of grapes and has the legend "Herod the Ethnarch," while on the reverse, there is a helmet with the legend "Herod the Ethnarch."

Not all procurators struck coins, but several of the procurators appointed by Augustus to take Archelaus' place did. Figure No. 24 shows a quadrans of the first procurator a man by the name of Coponius. On the obverse of this coin there is an ear of corn, with the legend "Money of Caesar." On the reverse, there is a palm tree with fruit, with the legend "Year 33." The coin shown in figure No. 25 is a quadrans of Annius Rufus. The obverse of this coin shows an ear of corn with the legend "Money of Caesar," while on the reverse there is found a palm tree with fruit, with the legend "Year 39."

A HAN DYNASTY COIN MOLD

By H. F. BOWKER, Oakland, California

A study of the methods used in ancient India for casting coins was made by Professor Birbal Sahni and published as Memoir No. III of the Numismatic Society of India in 1945, under the title "The Technique of Casting Coins in Ancient India." It was based primarily on the discovery in 1936 of several thousands of fragments of terra cotta coin molds near Rohtak ($76^{\circ} 35' \text{ E.}$, $28^{\circ} 54' \text{ N.}$), the chief city of a district by the same name in the Punjab, about 40 miles west-north-west of Delhi.

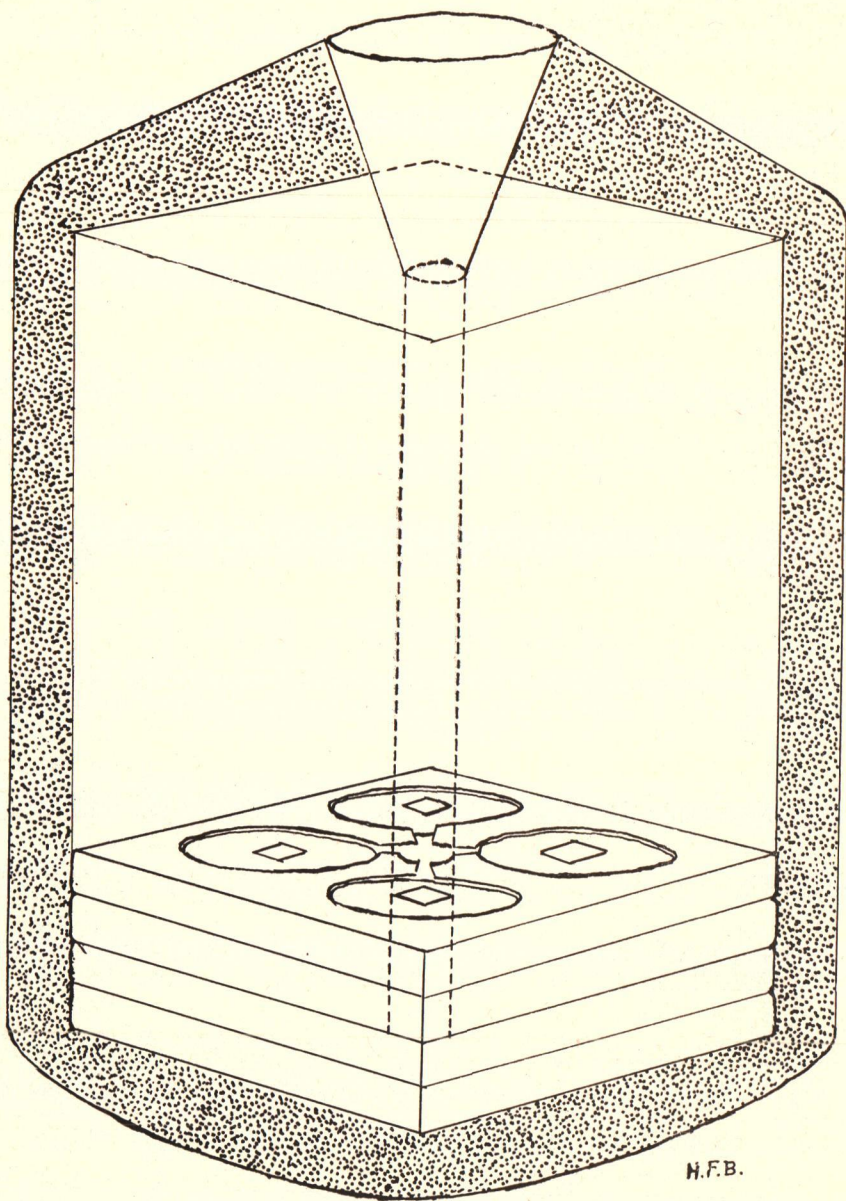

In this monograph a comparison is made, insofar as could be ascertained by the author from a limited number of publications available to him, of the technique employed in casting coins in ancient India, Rome, and China. He does not appear to have personally examined any Chinese coin molds. The information on India and Rome is much more ample than that on China, and as a matter of fact very little has been published in the last sixty years, except in Chinese, on the Chinese technique of casting coins.

Recently a specimen of a Chinese coin mold has been loaned to me by the Reverend Arthur B. Coole, formerly of Peking, China, that divulges that the methods of making coin molds described by Sahni as used in India in the 1st century B.C. and in China during the 2nd century A.D. were very similar.

The Coole mold before me consists of six square baked clay tiles, each measuring $67 \times 67 \times 7 \text{ mm.}$, encased in a circular porous baked clay sheath. These tiles have a circular sprue at the center 10 mm. in diameter, from which four gates lead to a like number of coin impressions. These impressions are only half the thickness of the finished coins on each side of the tiles, and the gates are impressed leading to the reverse impressions only. Like the Indian examples cited by Sahni, the sheath has been made porous to facilitate the escape of the hot gases during the pouring of the castings, by the admixture of some sort of vegetable matter in the clay of which it is composed. The impressions of the husks can plainly be seen in the fractured mold. This vegetable matter appears to have been grain husks or other chaff.

The coin impressions on the faces of the tiles appear to have been made by means of a single metal pattern, thus marking an advance in technique over the Indian procedure of impressing the multiple gates by means of single metal serrated pattern separately from the individually applied coin patterns. This method obviated the necessity of the external scoring of the edges of the coin molds, as described by Sahni, to insure their placement for casting in the same relative position as that in which they were originally molded; the discs being exact duplicates, they could be piled at random. Doubtless, the same method was used in China as in India, of racking the discs on a round rod to align them exactly one over the other, the rod being withdrawn after the sheath had been applied, formed the sprue.

It is suggested that it seems possible that it was unnecessary that the discs should have been baked previous to being assembled for the application of the sheath. They may have been only thoroughly air-dried until hard, and fired in a single operation with the sheath after it had been applied. The casing is thoroughly integrated with the discs into a very compact mass.

A close inspection reveals that this assembly was never actually used for casting coins, there being no evidence that molten metal was ever poured into it. The assembly probably developed cracks or warped in the final firing, causing it to be rejected. This presumption is confirmed by the large crack and distortions of the bottom tile of the pile.

The dating of this mold is an easy matter. The coins cast from it are Wu Chu of the Later or Eastern Han, A.D. 25-220. The obverses are of the conventional Wu Chu, 25 mm. in diameter, with outer rims only. The reverses are of the special type, fully rimmed at the circumference and at the margins of the inner square hole, with four additional raised diagonal lines connecting the four corners of the hole with the outer rim. This peculiar type is attributed to the 4th year of the Chung Ping period, A.D. 187, of the Emperor Ling Ti, who reigned from A.D. 168 to 188. This emperor made use of five different Nien Hao during his 20-year reign, of which Chung Ping was his last, from A.D. 184 to 188.

Both the Ku Ch'uan Hui (Coole 266) and Hsu Ch'uan Hui (Coole 199) have a number of reproductions of patterns and molds for Wu Chu coins, but none of them are for coins of this period, insofar as can be determined from the illustrations. The patterns of bronze are arranged for casting a greater number of coins than four in each course, ranging from eight to in excess of 16. The majority are only fragments. Several have inscriptions dating them in the Han dynasty (B.C. 206-A.D. 24). These patterns appear to have been used for making impressions in sand molds.

I have in my collection a fragment of a bronze pattern for casting Wu Chu coins 25 mm. in diameter. Only one coin is included in this piece, of a type with two short diagonal strokes at the lower corners of the square center hole. The pattern originally had a number of coin patterns disposed in two single lines on either side of a center channel. The gate through which the mold was poured is plainly seen leading from the coin to the sprue. The outer edge of the pattern has a rim 11 mm. in depth, provided with a flared upper edge used for leveling off the upper surface of the plastic molding composition from which the working molds from this pattern were made. It is presumed that all of the coin patterns originally on this piece had the obverse designs on them, and that a sister pattern having all reverse designs was at hand to provide the appropriate reverses. An alternate arrangement of the coin patterns would have had obverses on one side and reverses on the other side of the center sprue.

Patterns of another style, having as their principal characteristic a center sprue, were also used in Han times. These were arranged for casting eight coins in each course, and instead of having all obverses on one side of the tiles and all of the reverses on the other side of the sprue opening, they had every other pattern an obverse and a reverse.

THE CULION LEPER COLONY EMERGENCY CURRENCY

By P. I. DE JESUS

(Philippine Numismatic and Antiquarian Society)

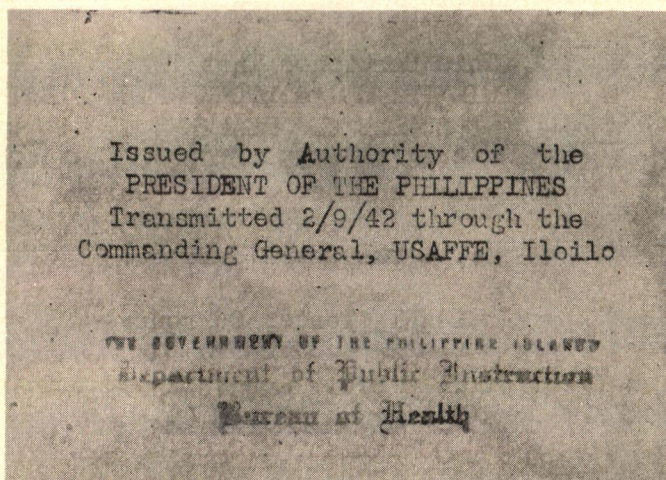

The emergency scripts issued by the Culion Leper Colony at the beginning of the Philippine phase of World War II in 1942 form an interesting chapter in the annals of emergency currency. They constitute another contribution of Culion to numismatic history, the first being the issue of special leper coins described by Perez¹ in 1929.

The distinguishing features of the Culion emergency notes are: (a) the use of colored paper — blue for the large denominations and pink for fractional notes; (b) printing by mimeograph in multiple copies per stencil sheet; (c) signatures on stencils: Julio Lisboa, Disbursing Officer, bottom left; H. W. Wade, Chairman of the Emergency Currency Committee, bottom center (one space down); J. O. Nolasco, Acting Chief of the Culion Leper Colony, bottom right; (d) reverse of first issue marked by rubber stamp, "The Government of the Philippine Islands, Department of Public Instruction, Bureau of Health," later issues mimeographed "Issued by Authority of the President of the Philippines transmitted 2/9/42 through the Commanding General, USAFFE, Iloilo"; (e) all pieces of each denomination numbered serially, in two places with a hand-numbering machine; (f) each piece marked by a row punctured by a dressmaker's burr wheel; (g) all pieces waterproofed with a paraffin-wax mixture. See figures.

Denominations of 20, 5 and one pesos and 50, 20, 5 and one centavos were issued. Four lots were printed at different times from January 28 to May 29, 1942, amounting to a total of 144,488 pesos. The printing was carefully supervised by a committee, and all issues were properly accounted and documented.

The need for this currency arose during the early part of 1942 when the leper colony, an isolated island several hundred miles south of Manila where lepers are segregated, was cut off from contact with the central government due to the Japanese occupation of Manila. With the approaching exhaustion of legal tender the Culion authorities were faced with the problem of how to pay the government expenses including the salaries of doctors and employees and the purchase of supplies and food-stuffs for issue to the inmates. In a public meeting it was approved to issue an emergency currency under the control of a special committee.

This currency was later approved by President Manuel Quezon from his emergency headquarters in Iloilo on February 9, 1942. It was utilized until July 28, 1942, when the Japanese Army took possession of the Island and Japanese occupational currency was supplied. It became dormant for the rest of the Japanese occupation and during the first years of liberation until the notes were recalled by the Philippine government for redemption.

The author wishes to acknowledge his thanks to Dr. Jose O. Nolasco of the Culion Leper Colony for facilitating the documents consulted in this paper.

THE CANTERBURY SERIES OF MEDALS

We are pleased to publish the third issue of this series which is sponsored by the Cathedral of Canterbury in England. Entitled "The Second Fall of Christ" it will be ready for distribution sometime this month. The first issue of the series was published in the January, 1950, issue of The Numismatist. The second appeared in the January, 1951, issue.

The Second Fall of Christ

The first two medals of the series were highly praised by art critics in various countries of the world and eagerly bought up by collectors and art dealers. Further information may be obtained from the sculptor, Andor Meszaros, 4 Creswick Street, Hawthorn, Melbourne E.2, Australia.

CONTORNIATE MEDALLIONS

By THOMAS O. MABBOTT, New York City

(Comments on a paper read before the American Numismatic Society.)

My paper or rather lecture at the ANS was on the contorniates. We gave it an intriguing title because we figured that a number of people would not know what a contorniate is. I spoke from rough notes, and showed slides, also exhibited my series of the things which runs around 40. They are still on exhibition at the Society.

I assumed my audience knew little of the subject, and began by assuring them that in my opinion nobody KNEW a great deal. I did discuss Alföldi's idea that they were heathen propaganda, pointed out the Christian type (which he knows), and the cross on one in the Hall Collection — the presence of Valentinian as an obverse, and remarked that non-Christians might have had something to do with them; but that they hardly could have been more doctrinal than a Christmas tree.

I then discussed the types, obverse and reverse and the engraved symbol, and sought for a common factor. The commonest heads are Nero and Trajan. What had they in common? They were famous for victories—in war and peace. Think of all those prizes for singing and poetry that Nero had. Incidentally, if Christians disliked Nero they sometimes loved the memory of Trajan. Almost every head is that of some kind of victor—and the reverses relate to victories too. I admit I don't know how to relate the four sea creatures type to victory. But mere interest in the Circus doesn't account for Bacchus types, but he was a great victor.

I pointed out that I could relate almost all the countermarks to victory, and preferred the interpretation of the monogram EP as Elea Palma, the palm won at Olympic games.

Two new facts were presented. Some contorniates were silver plated, and one has a round silver spot hammered on by a geometric device, a symbol of SOL INVICTUS, the unconquered Sun.

The ladies are rarely shown on the obverse. Agrippina Sr., had a car in the processions; Domna was a descendant of Alexander the Great—this idea came to me while I was talking; Alexander and his mother figure much on contorniates.

My conclusion was that contorniates were game pieces for a game in which heads and tails counted, and all types have some relation to victory. I noted that methods of manufacture included casting and tooling, but despite an idea that contorniates were much forged, I never have seen a bad one, and a leading European dealer, noted for doubting pieces, told me he never saw a bad one, either!

DAMON G. DOUGLAS MEDAL OF THE NEW YORK NUMISMATIC CLUB

The New York Numismatic Club has continued the series of its presidential medals by issuing one in honor of Damon G. Douglas, who has just retired from office as the club's seventeenth president after holding office for three years, 1949-1951.

On the obverse the medal shows the portrait of Mr. Douglas which was executed by the sculptor Karl Gruppe, who has executed all presidential portraits since the one for Mr. Otto T. Sghia. The reverse has the second seal of the club and is struck from the die designed by the sculptor Jonathan Swanson, which has been used for all the club's medals since 1918.

The medal is in the usual size of $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches or 38 mm and was struck by the Medallic Art Company of New York City. It was authorized by the membership at the meeting of 9 March 1951, the model was exhibited and approved by the Medallic Art Committee at the meeting of 8 October 1951, and the medals were distributed at the meeting of 14 December 1951, this being the last meeting at which Mr. Douglas presided.

Thirty-five medals were struck in silver and forty in bronze, each kind numbered on the edge in a separate series beginning with one.

Damon Greenleaf Douglas was born at Worcester, Massachusetts, on 21 September 1898. He obtained his degree in civil engineering from Cornell University in 1919 and has been the president of Damon G. Douglas Company, General Building Contractors, Newark, N. J., since 1931. He lives at East Orange, N. J., has since 1922 been married to Susan Havey and has two children and two grandchildren. Mrs. Douglas has an extensive collection of Washington and other presidential and campaign items, both numismatic and otherwise.

Mr. Douglas' numismatic interests are centered on early American state coppers. He has published various articles in The Numismatist on that subject and is presently at work on the following monographs: "James Jarvis and the Fugio Coppers," "The History of the New Jersey Coppers," and "Bungtown Coppers."

Mr. Douglas is a Vice President and Member of the Council of the American Numismatic Society and has been a Vice President of the American Numismatic Association as well as a member of its Board of Governors. He is also a Vice President and Trustee of the New Jersey Historical Society and a member of various local coin clubs. He has been President of the New Jersey Numismatic Society.

In addition to his numismatic and historical interests, Mr. Douglas is also very active in civic matters. He is a director of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, the North Jersey Employers' Association, Past President of the Associated General Contractors of Essex County (N. J.), and of the New Jersey Building Contractors' Association, a management member of the National Labor Participation Committee, CCC, and Chairman of the Industry Labor Division of the Newark Community Chest.

CHRISTIAN TYPES OF ROMAN COINS

The coins of the Christian Emperors differ much in their character. At first the types are generally allegorical; and though free from Pagan intention are not without Pagan influence, as may be seen in the types of Victory inscribing the Emperor's vota on a shield, or two Victories holding a wreath, or the seated figures of Rome and Constantinople. Though the coins of Constantine the Great are of a somewhat Christian character, yet purely Christian types are at first unusual. After a while, however, Victory no longer holds a wreath, but stands grasping a cross, and in place of representations of some mythological personage we find the monogram of Christ formed of X and P. In the purely Byzantine period all the Pagan influence disappears, and Christian types prevail, the most common being that of the Holy Cross raised high on steps.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE KANAWHA VALLEY COIN CLUB

The third annual banquet of the Kanawha Valley Coin Club was held in the Rainbow Room of the Quarrier Diner in Charleston, W. Va., on January 21, 1952. Present were 50 members and guests to enjoy a fine dinner, grand exhibits and a fine array of speakers and entertainment. The featured speaker of the evening was Colonel Joseph Moss, President of the American Numismatic Association. Col. Moss spoke of the benefits derived from membership in the A.N.A. and the fellowship enjoyed with contact with other collectors.

President Moss also made presentations of the awards won in National Coin Week competition to the KVCC and to representatives of the Huntington Coin Club who were present. He also announced that Dr. F. S. Epps, past president of the local club, would serve as General Chairman of National Coin Week in 1952. President McConihay of the local club announced that because of the appointment of Dr. Epps, the Kanawha Valley Coin Club would not enter in competition in 1952, but that displays would be made as in the past.

James Kelly, prominent dealer from Dayton, Ohio, also spoke briefly and had some very nice exhibits on display.

MANY GOLD RARITIES EXHIBITED

Shown in a discussion over rare gold coinage for the benefit of the local press at the third annual banquet of the Kanawha Valley Coin Club are: Colonel Joseph Moss, president of the A.N.A., James Kelly of Dayton, Ohio, a dealer who really knows gold coinage, M. E. Mills, past president of the local club and toastmaster of all three banquets of the KVCC, and President John McConihay of the local club.

40TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED BY R.N.A.

The fortieth Annual Banquet was held Saturday, January 5, 1952 at the Hotel Seneca. The event will long be remembered by the 75 members and guests who gathered in the beautiful Ontario Room to attend the celebration. Past President John J. Pittman acted as toastmaster for the evening. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Presidential Medal to Arnold Pittenger, retiring President. President Norman F. Prince made the presentation of the year's medal, designed and engraved by Alphonse Kolb. The Medal was encased in a beautiful hand wrought metal case — the handiwork of Barney Bloom. Mr. Pittenger, who has been very ill for some time, accepted the medal with sincere thanks to the officers and members of the R.N.A.

The entertainment program for the evening was handled by Earl Potter who gave a half-hour showing of beautiful kodachrome slides which he took on an extended trip through Florida. Group singing was enjoyed by all under the direction of President Norman F. Prince accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Frank Nevin. After a short recess prizes were distributed to those with lucky numbers. A very popular corner in the Ontario Room was the one presided over by John Pittman. 'Twas here that John set up shop and blended, brewed, or mixed (or whatever you want to call it) that famous elixir of life known as Pittman's Pleasing Punch. All who sampled John's efforts agreed that everything took on a rosy hue.

Prominent among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Al Gullian, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston DeBello, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Schwartz, and Messrs. Hoople and Gerner of Buffalo. A word of sincere thanks is heartily extended to these out-of-town guests who made the hazardous trip from Buffalo to Rochester over the icy roads which prevail at this time of the year. They are real loyal supporting numismatists. An orchid to them.

Notes & Queries

To Every Member of the A.N.A.

Not the least purpose of National Coin Week is to increase membership in the American Numismatic Association and to that end I urge every member, whether they participate in the event or not, to encourage their coin collecting friends to join our ranks.

In my recent visits to coin clubs I have been surprised and dismayed to discover so many collectors who are not members of our Association. It took but little persuasion to "sign them up" and I am sure that A.N.A. members working within the ranks of affiliated clubs, could easily obtain hundreds, if not thousands, of new members.

To the ladies I extend a special invitation to join our ranks. In the early days of the Association it was most unusual for a woman to show an interest in numismatics. Today, some of our most prominent members are women and they show an interest and enthusiasm that is unsurpassed by even the most experienced male collectors.

Being a member of the A.N.A. is a privilege that will do much to increase the enjoyment of your numismatic activities by adding to your knowledge and acquainting you with fellow collectors of kindred interests.

Pine Tree Facsimiles Wanted

Dear Editor:

I have made inquiries regarding tokens employing the pattern of Pine Tree Shillings, but have not succeeded as anticipated.

Before mounting the few now at hand, perhaps a mention in THE NUMISMATIST might bring out some wanted varieties. One missing item is the token issued by The International Silver Company, of which I cannot locate a single specimen.

Thanking you for your assistance,
I am

Sincerely yours

Plans 4th Trip to Mediterranean

George J. Bauer, A.N.A. Life Member No. 4, of Rochester, New York, who likes to get his coins from as near the place of original issue as possible, is on his fourth trip to the Mediterranean. He will be accompanied by his son Francis and together they plan to visit many little-known towns as well as the principal cities and ports.

Mr. Bauer who is one of the oldest living members of the A.N.A. has one of the finest private collections of ancient coins ever formed. Early in his collecting career he developed a discriminating taste for artistic and fine portrait coins and he has never accepted anything but the best.

Modern Greek Coins Offered

Dear Mr. Mosher:

Here I am in Greece — and would take great pleasure in sending any collectors some of the coins of this country. Practically all of the silver coins of Greece since 1850 are fairly common and available at slightly more than their metal value. Copper coins between 1828 and 1858 are scarce but many of them can be had for as little as twenty-five or thirty cents each. Silver dollar size coins (5 drachmai) in good condition are about $1.50 each (except for mistake or error pieces) and the other sizes accordingly.

Being a collector and not a dealer I want no profit and will be delighted to send any to anyone who writes (and of course I expect them to pay postage). I would also be glad to exchange any pieces of Greece for some of other countries — particularly the South American minor coins.

Respectfully yours,

The $5 Question of the Month

Dear Sir:

I have a $5 gold piece dated 1839 — obverse has the large head — reverse has 5 D. The Guide Book of U. S. Coins says that in 1839 the half eagles were changed to the new type smaller head with coronet and the reverse had FIVE D.

Now, what I want to know is, were some of the old style half eagles struck in 1839 or is this a counterfeit?

Thank you

JOS. A. MORITZ, ANA 18667
203 Hopeland Street
Dayton 8, Ohio

Editor's note: As far as we know there were no old style half eagles struck in 1839. However, the piece you own may be genuine and we suggest that you have it examined by an expert. If it's the real thing you have discovered a great rarity.

To Exhibit Early Chinese Coins

A group of collectors interested in the coins of China will make a combined showing of the coins of the Chou dynasty, B.C. 1122-293, at the spring meeting of the California State Numismatic Association at Santa Rosa, California, April 4th to 7th, 1952. This exhibit will be in compliment to Wang Yu-ch'uan, for his outstanding book on the coins of that period, entitled "Early Chinese Coinage," recently published as number 122 of the American Numismatic Society's Numismatic Notes and Monographs.

The exhibit is being arranged by H. F. Bowker of 1716 Gouldin Road, Oakland 11, California, to whom communications should be addressed by collectors who may have outstanding items of Chou coinages or correlated material, which they should like to have included in the exhibit. Material has already been received from the Reverend Arthur B. Coole, author of "Coins in China's History," "A Bibliography on Far Eastern Numismatics" from his extensive collection, and others.

PEACE MEDAL

Imaging your warm hope, a profiled face

That gazes toward the harbor of our race

Where winds will crumble, and the razored reef

Of battle bruise no more the mirrored sea

Reflecting heaven in its vital blue;

Where life will move like music, and eschew

The rudderless courses of iniquity.

In that small metal, that uplifted chin
These thoughts are carven: "Captain of Captains, sing

Over Thy vessel of the earth, take wing

With watchful speed from the sadistic
din,

Till Thy three-billioned crew, composed and glad

Will have forgotten that their sires were mad."

A Much Needed Work on Japanese Numismatics to Be Published Soon

Dear Mr. Mosher:

I am writing to inform you of the forthcoming publication of a book, called tentatively The Coinage of Japan, covering the history of the coinage of the Japanese Empire, including Korea and Manchuria and containing complete, accurate records of the official government issues of Japan from earliest times to the present. This book intends to provide both a scientific reappraisal of exceptional value to the specialist and a handbook which may also benefit the general numismatist, especially one who has heretofore overlooked Japanese coins because of the language difficulties. In the past books on Japanese numismatics both in Japanese and English (Munro, Tsukamoto, etc.) have suffered from considerable inaccuracies, lack of clarity in presentation, and an inability to distinguish between the government issues and sundry "temple pieces," tokens, amulets, and charms, etc. Dr. Norman G. Jacobs and Cornelius C. Vermeule, F.R.N.S., have combined several years research in Japan and at Harvard University in undertaking to produce a work on Japanese and related coins which will be the most complete, clear, and up to date in either English or Japanese yet produced.

The book will be published in New York in the near future and further information will be supplied you as soon as available as to how and where the book may be obtained. It would be greatly appreciated if you might find space to mention this project in one of your columns in order that numismatists might be made aware of the undertaking.

Yours sincerely,

Nickel is distributed widely by nature but in only few localities is nickel mineralization sufficiently concentrated to constitute ore bodies.

Faked Gold Coins Again Offered

Dear Sir:

I have just recently applied for membership in the ANA and have just received the first copy of your magazine which I think is a dandy and will be of great help to me. Noted the article in this issue by G. A. Willard stating that he had been offered a $2.50 gold piece from which the mint mark had been deleted and wish to say that this coin was also offered to me. This coin was examined very carefully by Rev. P. G. Rasmussen of Kenosha, Wis. and by Joseph H. Martin and Louis Wilczynski of this city and all ANA members and after going over it very carefully also decided that the mint mark had been removed.

After this decision had been reached the coin was returned to the party that had offered it and shortly after that this same party submitted another $5.00 gold piece dated 1887. This coin was also inspected by the above named committee and it was also decided that the mint mark had been removed on this coin also.

Am only just starting in the coin business and if it was not for the above named gentlemen am sure that I would have been taken but believe it was certainly a good lesson to me and do hope that these coins will not be offered again to anyone and doubt very much that they will be.

Very truly yours

Additions to the A.N.A. Library

Through the efforts of Alfred D. Norris, curator of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of Philadelphia and member No. 4279 of the A.N.A., many valuable additions have been made to the A.N.A. library. Horace W. Castor of Philadelphia very generously donated the following: Proceedings of the N & A Society of Philadelphia 1892 and 1898, 1899, 1901, 1905 and 1906. Two vols. of Old and New Fixed Dates Calendars. Some Monetary Questions, published in 1880 and 1881.

These publications contain many scholarly articles on numismatics and we are greatly indebted to both Mr. Castor and Norris.

BRAVO FOR THE NEW COVER!

Comments on the New Cover

Dear Mr. Mosher:

Just a card to register complete disapproval of the new cover design of The Numismatist.

I don't know who is responsible for this monstrosity which is neither classic in design nor for that matter any kind of a design at all!

The former design was American, with early connotations and well adjusted to the cover—besides having the eagle in the old art of script calligraphy—this new “thing” is a reflection on the good taste of everyone connected with U.S. numismatics. PLEASE help return the design of last year.

Regards,

WILLIAM D. KOONCE

Dear Editor:

I could not let the day go by without writing you in regard to the change in The Numismatist. The new cover, although strange, is in my opinion, a decided improvement over the old cover and I believe that The Numismatist is to be congratulated on the change for the better of the cover.

I likewise notice that you have made several changes in the format of The Numismatist which makes it for better reading and better understanding. I think that the makeup of the January issue is a decided improvement for the better and I want to write you that I heartily approve.

Cordially,

MELVIN FULD
P. O. Box 14

Dear Mr. Mosher:

At our meeting of January 17, 1952, there was considerable favorable comment on the new cover for The Numismatist.

A motion was made and passed that the A.N.A. be advised of our feelings on this change.

Therefore, will you as Editor, pass along to all those responsible for the new cover, the compliments of the Baltimore Coin Club.

Very truly yours,

STUART B. RUSSELL, Secretary

Birth of Nickel

Recently displayed by International Nickel at the National Metals Exposition in Detroit was a scale model of the laboratory in which 200 years ago the Swedish scientist Cronstedt discovered the element nickel. Although the face of the model measured only 22" by 7", it contained hundreds of authenticated items of the time in miniature.

Staples and Cardboard

Dear Mr. Mosher:

It seems to me that many gold coins, especially the large sized pieces, now described as “extremely fine,” “was proof” or “abt. unc.” were degraded at one time by improper packaging for shipment to the purchaser.

The common use of applying staples to a folded sheet of cardboard offers little protection, if any, to its contents against the hazards of our mails.

Recommendations of worth while merit, relating to the proper packaging of gold coins should be solicited—and practiced. Thus assuring the mail order buyer that his uncirculated and proof gems will receive safe delivery.

Sincerely,

JOHN M. ZIDLICK

Fixed Price List of Gold Coins

A Fixed Price List of gold coins has been issued by the Coin Department of Gimbels, 33rd Street and Broadway, New York City 1, New York. It is devoted almost entirely to foreign issues and offers many of the classic rarities. Of especial interest is a 100 ducat piece struck by Sigismund III of Poland in 1621. It is priced at $9,000.

A copy of the List will be sent to interested collectors upon receipt of six cents in postage.

FROM YOUR LIBRARIAN

MRS. D. DEE DENISE, 5550 28th Avenue, N.E., Seattle 5, Washington

This is my debut, and my first act must be one of asking your pardon for the delay in getting off my many orders for books until the Library really got under way on December first. I am really pledging to give you twenty-four hour service, if the books you ask for are in at the time, or I will write you a letter of explanation.

The A.N.A. Library is YOURS to make use of, and if you do not choose to do so, you are missing an opportunity to make the most of what you possess. First, I think that you should know that there are hundreds of books in this library which are not listed in the Catalog. It is, of course, impractical for you to go back through your Numismatists for four years and look at the Librarian's pages to note whether or not a certain book is available, but if you will tell me just what you are looking for, I hope I may find just what you need to help you in the study of certain series or types or countries. At present I am working on a cross index, because at present the only Index the Library has is an Alphabetical one according to Authors. The Library Catalog offers something like a cross index, but is far from complete. You will have another one within this year, we hope, with added helps for your study of coins.

It is to be taken for granted that all of you have coins. How much do you know about them? About their designs and designers, their historical background, their effect upon their nations, and perhaps upon the economics of other nations, as in the case of the well-known Pillar Dollar. This Library, with The Numismatist, should be the most valuable assets your A.N.A. dues offer you. Now are you getting your money's worth?

I am open to all practical suggestions and all constructive criticism you have to offer me. I am not easily offended, and I like work. I especially like Library work, cataloging, indexing, writing letters, and when I am not doing these things, I will be familiarizing myself with the books so that I may serve you better.

This is an invitation to visit your Library when you are in the Northwest. You will always be welcome, even as are your letters when you send an order for books.

To date, every order received has gone out. If you did not receive an order you sent, please write me direct as the original may have been delayed in the move from Wichita.

Book Reviews of Recent Acquisitions to the A.N.A. Library

YEOMAN, RICHARD S. — 5th Edition, GUIDE BOOK TO U.S. COINS (Y-2, 5th Ed.). Mr. Yeoman has donated this to the Library this month, and those of you who want to know the increased value of your 1793 Large Cents and those early Half Cents, should get a copy or borrow one from your Library for a period. Mr. Yeoman has promised as many as we need.

COLONEL CURTIS has sent us two more copies of his A.N.A. reprint MEDIA OF EXCHANGE IN ANCIENT EGYPT. Old members will find this article in your May, 1951 Numismatist, but those of you who are new members will be fascinated with the contents of the reprint. Colonel Curtis has an easy style of writing, and you will find it easy to read, and extremely interesting whether you collect odd and curious coins or whether you do not. He deals with the periods from 3200 to 341 B.C., up to the time the Ptolemies first instituted regular coinage. (C-76)

MR. C. AL METZ of Monterey has sent two Proceedings of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. The first is a duplicate of an already popular item in the Library, and we can use a second copy. It is CERTAIN OLD CHINESE NOTES by ANDREW MCFARLAND DAVIS. (D-10). There are illustrations of notes from 650-1426 A.D. The second is by the same author and is ANCIENT CHINESE PAPER MONEY AS DESCRIBED IN A CHINESE WORK ON NUMISMATICS. (D-46). Here we have 168 pages profusely illustrated, which should be of great interest to collectors of Oriental Numismatics.

From London, B. F. SEABY has sent us new editions of THE COINAGE OF ROMAN BRITAIN (A-83) and A CATALOGUE OF GREEK COINS (A-82) both by Gilbert Askew. Both are cloth-bound books of approximately 100 pages, well illustrated.

If you read Spanish you will enjoy the copy of LA MONEDA, a periodical sent to us from J. R. DOS SANTOS of the Canary Islands. This contains articles on coins from many countries, much like our Numismatist, but with no advertising. It is put up like the Rotogravure Sections, but book size and 64 pages, profusely illustrated. It is a Bi-monthly, edited by Jose Amoros, a professor in the University of Barcelona. And don't think I didn't have to get out my Spanish Dictionary to translate Catedratico (Professor).

From JAMES KELLY has come a bound edition of the A.N.A. Auction at Phoenix, priced, (K-34) and from ABE KOSOFF, a bound and priced edition of the Numismatic Gallery's 72nd Auction Sale of U.S. Paper Currency and the B. A. Talmadge Quarter-Eagles. (K-35) From Belgium comes a book for the collectors of Orders and Decorations BELGIUM REMEMBERS AND HONORS THE U. S. ARMIES OF LIBERATION. I have asked Haven Petersen, one of our embryo collectors of this series, to write the review for this book and it is attached. (D-45)

Glory and Honor to the Armies of the United States of America, Liberators of Belgium 1944-1945, compiled by Lieutenant-Colonel A. DeBaene, Editions J. Rozez, S. A. Bruxelles, copyrighted 1948. Dedicated . . . to the Memory of Franklin Delano Roosevelt . . . and to all American Heroes fallen for the cause of Liberty.

This book, written in English, is in two sections. The first contains a brief history of the decorations and the Fourragere 1940 that have been conferred on Members of the Ground, Air and Naval Forces and on Units of the Armies of the United States of America.

The second is in the form of a Book of Honor established according to official documents which exist at the Ministry for National Defense: mentions: (a) Units mentioned twice with the granting of the Fourragere 1940; (b) Units which have been the object of one citation; (c) Military personnel cited for military exploits and honored with decorations with palm; (d) Military personnel on whom decorations without palm were conferred for services rendered.

The first section is the one interesting to collectors as it gives a historical summary of the National Orders, Military Crosses and Decorations, Croix de Guerre 1940 and the Belgian Fourragere 1940 and for which are beautiful plates in color. — HAVEN PETERSEN.

This page is devoted to American store cards, war tokens, and similar metallic pieces. Its purpose is to illustrate and describe the many interesting pieces that are so little known to most present day collectors. In some instances the pieces are illustrated for the first time and a special effort is made to include the early issues that have never been listed elsewhere. Collectors who are able to supply additional information on any of the cards published are cordially invited to do so.

Austin, Texas

Size 14 - Brass, Copper and Silver. Plain Edge. Wright 1342.

Wright mentions this piece in brass only, and is rare, but the authors have this piece in copper and silver. The only pieces seen are in excellent condition, being excellent specimens issued about 1890.

Austin, Texas

M.T. THOMPSON around edge - AUSTIN, TEX.

Reverse - IOU ONE DRINK in three lines, the first and third curved with eight stars and 2 ornaments.

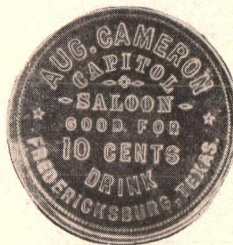

Nickel. Plain edge, size 18½.

A restaurant check issued around 1895 as the previous owner acquired it in 1897. The metal used is of different composition than the Heidemann historical pieces. Nothing known about this piece or its publisher.

Tex. - 10.198.1-RC-20-Ni-18½-P-5

Fredericksburg, Texas

AUG. CAMERON FREDERICKS-BURG, TEXAS around edge. CAPITOL SALOON GOOD FOR 10 CENTS DRINK in five lines.

Reverse - Picture of the State Capitol located at Austin (see COSMOPOLITAN SALOON).

Nickel. Size 19. Plain Edge. Wright 1358.

Wright says that this piece is very rare as are all of this type of pieces issued 1885.

TEX - 60.41.1 - SC - 19 - Ni - 19 - P-8.

Houston, Texas

OPERA HOUSE - WINE ROOM around edge 15 in center.

Reverse - PAY THE CASHIER around edge 15 in center.

Nickel. Plain edge, size 18. Not in Adams, similar to Wright 790.

The letters on this piece are all countersunk and this might be one of a series, as Wright's 790 has a 20 instead of the 15.

The previous owner of this piece acquired it from Dr. B. P. Wright April 15, 1897, and the memo with piece says it is from Houston, Texas and very rare. Therefore, it is difficult to understand why Dr. Wright did not mention either the city or that other pieces besides 20 existed, as Wright's listing of this piece did not occur until December 1898. The metal used was similar to other pieces struck around the same period 1890.

Tex. - 80.144.1-RC-20-Ni-18-P-8

Houston, Texas

J. J. WEISS - HOUSTON, TEX. around edge 814 PRESTON AVE in two lines in center.

Reverse - GOOD FOR COFFEE around edge 1 in center. The letters J.J.W. stamped in the field.

Brass. Plain edge, size 16. Not in Adams - Wright 1218.

This is restaurant check issued about 1890 and is rare as this counter-stamped piece does not appear in many collectors' cabinets and was no doubt used as an advertising piece. This workmanship is excellent and the die work is uncommon for this class of tokens.

Tex. - 80.205.1-RC-20-Br-16-P-7

Lampasas, Texas

WHITE ELEPHANT LAMPASAS TEXAS in three lines.

Reverse - WHITE ELEPHANT around edge with an elephant in center.

Size 18½. Metal Nickel. Plain Edge. Not in Wright or Adams.

This piece was issued around 1880 at which time elephants were popular as there were several white elephant bars in Texas. There are various pieces of this bar in existence and was unknown to Wright or the collectors at the turn of the century and must be considered very rare.

TEX - 110.203.1 - SC - 19 - Ni - 18½ - P-9.

Laredo, Texas

ANHEUSER BUSCH, ST. LOUIS, BEER around edge, LAREDO BEER GARDEN in exergue with cut of building in center. Reverse - GOOD FOR ONE DRINK around edge. An eagle on a bar of letter A star above. Shield and arrows in claws of eagle. White metal. Plain edge. Size 21½.

While this piece does not mention Texas, it is definitely of the period of 1890 when Bars issued pieces of this nature. The cut is definitely of a building with the architectural details of the "Gay 90's." The eagle is different than the MO.175.2 piece, but similar in design to the MO.175.1 piece. The shield in the claws of this piece is entirely of different design than in MO.175.2, as the shield shown above is upright while in MO.175.2 it is inverted. The workmanship is good and was struck from a perfect set of dies, but does not compare to MO.175.2. The size is similar to pieces struck in this period and the alloy is quite hard. We have never seen any similar pieces, but no doubt they must exist.

Tex - 110.111.1-RC-20-WM-21½-P-7

San Antonio, Texas

FRED'S in a rectangle surrounded by a scroll.

Reverse - CITY HALL - SAN ANTONIO, TEX. around edge with a cut of the city hall in the center.

Nickel. Plain Edge, Size 20. Not in Adams or Wright.

No doubt the advertisement of a restaurant or tavern as it appears that these types of establishments were the only ones issuing historical or governmental pictorial pieces. This piece is excellently executed and is no doubt the work of Heidemann. The border used is identical with those pieces definitely attributed to this concern and the die work is superb. This piece with the other San Antonio pieces illustrated, gives an excellent picture of the important buildings of the 1890's. Another piece unknown to Wright and the gift of a Texas collector who says "This is one of the rare pieces of the 90's."

Tex. - 171.60.1-SC-20-Ni-20-P-8

San Antonio, Texas

F. I. MEYERS - ALAMO PLAZA around edge. An eagle upon a globe holding a bunch of grapes in its beak. About the globe is a scroll inscribed IN VINO VERITAS.

Reverse - U.S. POST OFFICE - SAN ANTONIO TEXAS with a cut of the Post Office building in center.

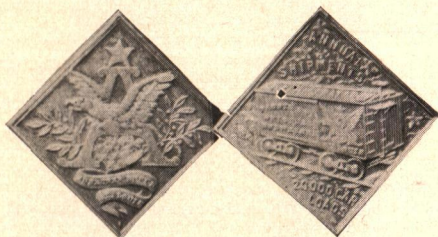

White metal — plain edge — Size 19
— Not in Adams. Wright 1522.

This, no doubt, the work of Heidemann as the work is similar to Nent-wig's Bar (See Numismatist p.42, 1952.) The view of the Post Office is different to that appearing on the Nentwig piece. The detail of the building is much finer on the piece illustrated here than any other of Heidemann's work. Meyers, no doubt, had a restaurant or tavern on Alamo Plaza because IN VINO VERITAS "In wine there is truth" is an advertisement of his establishment. Wright says it is extremely rare and we suspect that the previous owner wrote
Wright about this piece and it appears in his supplement. We have never seen or heard of a similar piece. Issued about 1895.

Tex — 171.133.1-SC-20-WM-19-P-9

St. Louis, Missouri

An eagle on a bar of letter A above star, ANHEUSER BUSCH, St. LOUIS in a scroll.

Reverse: ANNUAL SHIPMENTS
20000 CARLOADS in upper and lower corners. Box Car in center. On top of car REFRIGERATOR. On side of car left FAUSTS OWN ORIGINAL BUDWEISER. On right side same eagle as on obverse with St. Louis underneath.

Silver. Plain edge, size 14 x 14 rectangle. Not listed.

This piece, no doubt, was given to dealers of Anheuser Busch and may have had a ring at peak to use as a watch charm. It is an unusual piece with workmanship hardly ever seen on an advertising piece. The details were executed by an expert craftsman. The eagle, and the shield in the eagle's claw is similar to shield used on coins.

Struck around 1890-1895.

We also wish to express our thanks to Ben Grancell of Brownsville, Texas, who sent along the following information on the W. P. Buchanan token described in the July Numismatist.

"... I worked for W. P. Buchanan as an errand boy about 1905 or 6.
It was located at 1226 Arch St. in Phila., according to my memory.
He was a tall heavy set man and very polite. He even said Good Morning to the errand boys. The cats head was on all stationary.
Those were the days of using Flashlight powder in photography.
He had a small building near Ardmore, Penna., where he mixed the powder. In mixing the powder one day, he blew the building and himself up. That was the end of W. P.
Buchanan! ...

"He sure liked cats. All his ads in the newspaper had the cats head. I am sixty years of age now, but I do remember the man.

"So may the Lord have mercy on the soul of W. P. Buchanan."

The information on the Buchanan token is highly appreciated and adds much to the history of this well designed token.

- THE NUMISMATIST

A SUCCESSFUL NEW YORK SALE

The public sale of the New Netherlands Coin Co., held on Jan. 26th last, attracted one of the largest crowds that New York has seen in years. By actual count, over 100 floor bidders were in attendance. We observed many old acquaintances including Arthur Conn of Melrose, Mass.; K. P. Austin of Salisbury, Md.; Maurice Storck of Portland, Me.; W. Ely of Kokomo, Ind.; S. K. Nagy of Philadelphia; George Fuld and Walter Breen of Baltimore and a host of others. Many collectors and dealers of the metropolitan area attended and we noticed Wayne Raymond, Edward Janus, Max Kaplan, Henry Grunthal, Max Schwartz and W. C. Blaisdell.

The first forty-eight lots offered consisted of Colonial and Continental paper, almost all of which were quickly snapped up on the floor. Unusual interest was displayed for this series which has long been considered "Dead." Lot No. 35, a group of eight 1775 and 1776 Rhode Island notes, poor to good, sold for $62.50, and a lot No. 45, a group of rare Virginia bills together with a solitary torn Vermont note realized $42.50.

United States silver coins were well represented and obtained good prices. In a few instances, records were established. In the half dimes a 1796, fine, sold for $35; 1800, abt. v. fine with a planchet defect at $23; 1803, good to v. good, but weak at $11.50; 1805, abt. v. good with a few edge bruises at $44.00, and 1864 "S," unc. at $10.50.

A considerable number of early dimes were listed. A 1796, fine, realized $41; 1797, 13 stars, abt. v. fine at $72; 1797 16 stars abt. ex. fine at $101.00.

The catalogers sold an 1877 proof 20-cent piece for $49 after indicating that the coin was rarer than generally known. A 1796 quarter, Browning No. 2, in ex. fine condition realized $172.50 after considerable competition and a fine specimen of the 1804 was knocked down for $34. Individual examples of the Isabella quarter sold as high as $9.50 each.

All of the half dollars offered sold well, several after intensive bidding. A fine specimen, dated 1794, went for $38 and the 1795s listed, averaging v. good to fine, sold from $9 to $16. An 1801, v. good, went for $18; 1802, almost v. fine at $33; 1806/9, not quite fine at $15; 1815/12, fine to v.f. at $24, 1824, overdate, unc., slightly rubbed at $14; 1836, milled edge, v. fine at $22.50; 1839 "O," bust type, unc. at $22; 1850, unc., but "bag handled" at $17.50; and probably the finest known specimen of the rare 1866 "S," without motto, sold for $65 after considerable excitement.

Silver Dollars also did well and obtained high prices. A v. good 1795, flowing hair variety, realized $21; 1850, impaired proof $52.50; 1856, good, $10.50; 1867, v. fine, $15.50; 1870, ex. fine, $7; 1871 "CC," v. fine, at a record price of $92.50.

Tokens and medals demanded good prices and considerable interest. Bolen cards in gold, silver and brass sold for $67.50 and $57.50 per set. A Mass. and Calif. Co. half eagle in silver, fine, went for $250; the Scott card with the C. S. A. reverse, white metal at $8.50.

A large offering of Lafayette, Lincoln and Washington items did equally well. The ex. rare Polish medal of Lafayette, in silver, opened on the floor at $30 and finally was knocked down for $51. A v. good Season medal, in bronze, realized $14 and the Lea Ahlborn Washington Centennial (1883) medal, in bronze, sold for $16.

U. S. Mint medals were described in considerable detail and sold from $1.75 to $6.50 each. Both mail and floor bidders paid fancy prices for the U. S. Colonials offered. An Oak Tree twopence, v. fine at $34; Pine Tree shilling, small flan, fine at $27.50; another shilling, a great rarity, Crosby 17-L at $40; Lord Baltimore sixpence, v. fine with a planchet crack at $52; a damaged Baltimore groat, fine at $62; Rosa Americana coins sold from $10 to $26, the latter figure for an unc. 1722 penny.

Vermont cents realized various prices from $6.50 to $24. A set of Chalmer's coinage did exceedingly well. A shilling, fine to v. fine at $37; sixpence, v. fine at $105; threepence, abt. unc. at $90. A v. fine N. Y. Excelsior cent, 1787, eagle facing right at $100; Continental Currency dollar, Pewter, v. fine at $57.50; a rub impression, in pewter, from unpublished dies of the Fugio cent at $45; while regular varieties sold from $10.50 to $18. A 1792 Washington cent, Crosby No. 11, Pl. X, ex. fine, sold for $102.50. A defective 1792 half disme, v. fine, was knocked down for $90.

Other coins in the sale stimulated interest. An uncirculated 1815/12 half dollar, a superb example, sold for $85, and a 1798/97 eagle, v. fine, went for $255.

A number of numismatic books were offered and many of them reflected a heavy demand for good literature. Crosby's Early Coins of America, an original, at $47.50; Gutttag reprint of Maris on Jersey Cents at $18; Miller & Ryder on New England Coins at $17; Chapman on 1794 Cents at $13; the Numismatic Gallery's Pearl catalog at $7; Newlin on Half Dimes, with the Plates, at $15; Browning's Early Quarters at $16; Low on Hard-Times Tokens, with Supplement and sans Plates at $21; Hetrich-Gutttag on Civil War Tokens at $17; various Chapman catalogs from $2 to $14 each.

We observed that several uncirculated Mercury dimes have a strong future — 1919 "S" at $16.50; 1921 "D" at $22; 1926 "S" at $15 and 1927 "D" at $51. A Washington button, lot No. 708, sold for $31 and two sheets of Delaware and Rhode Island Colonial currency realized $30 and $23 respectively. Various foreign and U. S. gold coins sold at good prices. A 1951 Peruvian set of three pieces was knocked down for $175 and a 1904, Lewis & Clark, commemorative gold dollar went for $54.

All in all, the New York dealers are to be congratulated for a fine catalog; a large and cheerful floor attendance and the selection of a highly competent auctioneer. Mr. D'Amato will also cry the A.N.A. Convention sale to be held in New York next August.

NATIONAL COIN WEEK

April 18-24, 1952

The theme for National Coin Week this year "Coins, Tokens and Currency of the Colonies" was submitted to you early in the January issue of The Numismatist. Particularly, so ample time was available for those collectors who are Colonial collectors to bring this interesting series out of hiding. I have communications that this is a hard theme and material is lacking or scarce.

To my way of thinking, if you will pardon a personal reference from your chairman, it should do a great deal to aid in our fight for a Commemorative Pine Tree Shilling. Also, we all know and must admit, that this country has been drifting steadily for some years now towards a degree of Socialism. This country was built on freedom of expression and not regimentation. We were conceived and born (as a country) by rugged individualists in search of religious freedom. In emphasizing the various mediums of exchange used by our founding fathers we may, in our small way, bring public attention to the fact that our liberties are very dear to us.

In addition to the theme material have your exhibits diversified. Include a "little bit of everything." In this way more people will view the exhibit from their point of interest. Try to arrange your exhibits in various places, banks and store windows are good, but an inside exhibit such as a department store counter with constant attendance by some member will aid greatly in our search for more and new collectors by this personal contact. Take time and give time to the beginner. Remember the beginner of today is the student of numismatics tomorrow when we are called to depart this life. The science of numismatics must and shall grow thereby. All corporate clubs will receive instructions and entry blanks for National Coin Week competition about March 20, 1952. Individuals will find individual entry blanks available from their club secretaries.

If any club or individual does not receive appropriate instructions and entry blanks please write to the Chairman, Dr. F. Stevens Epps, P.O. Box 65, Homer, Mich., for immediate response.

The general rules of entry will follow last year's, but in gracious response to constructive criticisms of last year's awards system the following additions will be made.

1. A certificate of merit to all clubs not receiving a prize award providing they send in a complete report and score a minimum of 300 points.
2. Special awards to those three clubs and those three individual members who secure the greatest number of NEW A.N.A. members.

Good luck and best wishes to you all.

—DR. F. STEVENS EPPS,
National Coin Week Chairman

Obituaries

BYRON A. TALMADGE, A.N.A. 8553

Byron A. Talmadge, affectionately called "Tal" by his friends in the Seattle Coin Club, passed away Tuesday morning, January 15, 1952. He had been in poor health since a stroke suffered last year, but each day had gone to work at the Blueprint shop which he founded in Seattle in 1909. He arrived at work on the morning of his death, about eight o'clock, complained of feeling a little ill about nine o'clock and shortly after that, passed away. He is survived by his wife, Marie, and two sons, Frank and Dean.

Mr. Talmadge was born in Grand Island, Nebraska, sixty-five years ago, and came to Seattle in 1892. He was a member of the Seattle Coin Club almost since its inception, but his proudest and fondest affiliation was with his Church, the Fremont Baptist. He was active and interested in every activity of his church, especially in the Sunday School and Youth divisions.

His collection of U. S. and Mexican Gold was the most complete in the Seattle Coin Club, and only within this last year was it sold. We shall miss his hearty laugh at every good joke, and there is not one of us who ever heard "Tal" speak unkindly of anyone. This is a thought to be cherished.

LEWIS G. GRANGER, A.N.A. 4635

Lewis G. Granger, Sr., of Dayton, Ohio, passed away suddenly on Christmas day, 1951. Mr. Granger was born Nov. 7, 1875, in New Marlboro, Mass., where he spent his early years. In 1899 he became a civil service employee in Hartford, Conn. He became a member of the Masonic Lodge in Bloomfield, Conn., in 1906. In 1907 his work for the Government moved him to Dayton, Ohio, where he retired in 1945 after 46 years as a Government Agent.

He was Member No. 1, an honorary member and past-president of the Dayton Coin Club, and was a member of numerous other numismatic organizations and clubs. He joined the A.N.A. in 1935 and attended most of the annual conventions after that year. He was the author of several articles, mostly on ancient coins, that appeared in The Numismatist.

Mr. Granger is survived by his wife, Mary Lucinda, with whom he had just celebrated their forty-eighth wedding anniversary, three daughters, one son, one sister and three grandchildren.

His many friends will remember him as being soft-spoken and modest, and a coin collector whose numismatic knowledge he was always willing to impart. His memory will serve as a memorial to all those who knew him.

BENJAMIN B. BACHRACH, A.N.A. 7003

Benjamin B. Bachrach, of Willmar, Minnesota, passed away at his home on December 17, 1951. He had been in poor health for some time. He was born on October 28, 1897.

Mr. Bachrach joined the A.N.A. in 1938 and his numismatic interest was mostly in coins of the United States.

He is survived by his wife, Lillian, and four daughters by a previous marriage.

The 1952 convention of our Association will be held at the Hotel Statler in New York City on August 16-20. Each member of the Association is invited to attend and participate in the business affairs and social activities. Members of your families and your friends are also invited to attend as visitors. The next issue of The Numismatist will contain information regarding the procedure for making reservations at the hotel and for reserving display cases for your exhibit. The details of the program will also appear in The Numismatist and in a separate, printed Souvenir Journal which will be sent, this year, to all members of the Association.

The election of officers for the 1952-1953 Association year is by mail ballot only. Nominations open officially on April 1, 1952 and will close on June 15. Nominations may be made by any member or by any affiliated club, and must be sent, in writing, to the office of the General Secretary. The General Secretary will advise those nominated of their nominations and request their acceptance in writing on or before the closing date. The names of those who accept will appear on the official ballot to be mailed to each member shortly after the closing date. The nomination and election of your officers is an important obligation as well as a privilege and it should not be overlooked or left to others. A report of nominations will be prepared by the General Secretary and published in the May, June and July issues. The ballots are opened by the Election Committee, at the convention, and the results will be announced at the closing business session, following which the new officers will be installed.

BALTIMORE COIN CLUB—The semi-monthly meeting was called to order at 8:15 p.m.

25 members and 2 guests were present.

Mr. Wiley announced the death of Dr. Shaefer on January 8, 1952. Mr. Straus made a motion that the Club rise as a tribute to our charter member and that a page in the minutes be set aside in his memory.

Mr. Sheckells spoke on Mr. Breen's article in The Numismatist. Mr. Straus added to this the fact that the Baltimore Coin Hoard information had been brought to Mr. Breen's attention at our meeting. Mr. Phillips also added remarks on Mr. Breen's article on the Massachusetts three pence in the same issue.

Mr. Wiley talked on the article in the Sunday Sun, January 6, 1952, regarding our non-resident member, Dr. David M. Robinson, now a Professor of Classics and Archeology at the University of Mississippi.

Mr. Hastry spoke on the Glenn L. Martin Coin Club and suggested that we invite them to our meetings. Mr. Wiley suggested a letter of invitation be sent them. Mr. Straus mentioned the fact that he had been the speaker at their last banquet, and spoke of the interest they showed; and asked that the matter be left to Mr. Hastry.

About 25 Roman coins were displayed by Mr. Stenzel and described by Mr. Schmidt, as to mints and official's marks. The marks showed the control of the coinage and the letters the place of origin. Mr. Jennings showed some ancient Roman coins and asked for further information regarding first brass coins of various reigns.

Mr. Straus exhibited a Roman pound of 400 B.C. or Aes. He also stated that he thought the variations in the first, second and third brass were due to inflation. Then showed coin of Nero 54 to 68 A.D., and one of Marcus Aurelius 121 to 180 A.D.

Mr. McCormick showed a Greek coin of Alexander III of Macedon 336-323 B.C.

Secretary

BIRMINGHAM COIN CLUB—The 83rd meeting was held January 15, at the auditorium of White Dairy, 621 South 27th Street, with President Watkins in the chair and 12 members attending.

This meeting marked the end of 7 years of organization and the members can look back with pride on our many accomplishments. We have watched our club grow from a small beginning to a club of 68 members.

At this meeting new officers for the coming year were elected and those chosen were: W. M. Acton, president; J. C. Faulkner, vice president; W. D. Saxton, secretary treasurer and J. H. Morris was added to the board of governors.

Inflation has hit our club the same as everything else as the annual dues were increased from $1.00 to $2.00 per year.

Plans were made for our annual banquet to be held in lieu of our next regular meeting. We find that an annual banquet has a tendency to get the lagging members in a more responsive mood thus boosting attendance for the next few meetings.

There were no exhibits this time as all members present were intent on the business at hand.

— O. B. HUDSON,
Sec. Pro-tem.

BOSTON NUMISMATIC SOCIETY—Our 820th meeting was held on January 21st at the Copley Plaza, with President deLellis presiding.

This is the report of our 1952 elections: President, G. deLellis; Vice-President, Maurice M. Gould; Secretary, Mrs. Shepard Pond, and Treasurer, Malcolm O. E. Chell-Frost. Councilors for two years, Henry Schuhmacher and J. Noe Simard, for one year, Chandler H. Foster. Trustee for three years, William R. Campbell, and Curator for three years, William J. Tronson.

A vote of thanks was given Mr. Schuhmacher for his services to our society as a past treasurer and president.

James F. Clapp, Jr., outlined the very apparent relation numismatics have to other forms of learning in his stimulating talk, titled, "Dr. of Numismatics, PhD." It was illustrated with lantern slides.

He explained the contribution of six ancient coins to other branches of knowledge and research outside of numismatics. The first, a Roman coin bearing a 17th Century Spanish countermark, proved that the coin had been in circulation for 1300 years. The second, a coin of Constantine, helped establish the date of the adoption of Christianity as a State religion. The third, a Roman Republican denarius, depicted a lost, classical Greek painting. The fourth was issued by a Roman Emperor, otherwise unknown to history. The fifth, a coin of the Social War of 89 B.C., traced the linguistic origin of the name of Italy. The sixth, a tetradrachm of Athens, illustrated the principle of Modern Art that, "form follows function."

HAWTHORNE COIN CLUB - The January meeting was of unusual interest inasmuch as we inaugurated the use of the slides produced by the A.N.A. under their Visual Educational Program. Our first showing was the series on Private Gold and one of our own members, Harold Dermody accompanied the slides with comments. It provided a very interesting and educational evening and was very well received by the members. Mr. Dermody also exhibited gold coins of the era during which much of the Private Gold was minted.

We plan on showing several of the series at future meetings, each showing to be accompanied by comments by one of our members.

PIKES PEAK COIN CLUB — The fifth meeting of this new club was held February 6 at the Acacia hotel, Colorado Springs, Colo., with eight members and 49 guests present to partake of a turkey dinner. The speaker of the evening was the agent in charge of the Denver office, United States Secret Service, who held the guests spellbound for two hours with tales of counterfeiters and their methods and products.

This meeting, ably conducted by Vice President Edgar Levy as toastmaster, has definitely established this group in the community. Present were such guests as the mayor, chief of police, county sheriff, one member of the city council, and other dignitaries.

As each guest entered the banquet hall he (and his wife) were each presented with a coin envelope containing a coin. By planting appropriate coins in certain envelopes an opportunity was thus afforded to bring out interesting sidelights on collecting as well as a chuckle or two.

One table was set aside for the display of coins, which display was ably handled by our president, Major Gibson, who provided a very interesting showing of coins, all mounted in colored plastic holders.

Members and guests were unanimous in announcing the club's first public appearance a huge success and auguring well for its future.

— C. S. YOWELL, Secretary

COIN CLUB OF RHODE ISLAND — A dinner meeting was held at the Grist Mill restaurant, Seekonk, Mass., on Jan. 25th with 11 members and six guests.

An extremely short business meeting was held after dinner and then the principal event of the evening was held.

— D. S. WRATHALL,
Secretary

RICHMOND COIN CLUB — The regular monthly meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. on January 9 in the Byrd Park Club House by our new president, B. A. Delano. Twenty-one members and guests were present. Following the new policy of the club, that a recording secretary pro tem be appointed at each meeting from among those present rather than have a regular officer, James A. Johnson, Jr., was named acting secretary.

Mr. Delano in his opening remarks thanked the club on behalf of all the officers for the honor of serving them during 1952. He displayed 1951 mint sets that he had procured from the Treasury Department in Washington and commented on the excessive amount of fingerprint damage on the specimens, particularly the S mint coins.

After routine business was attended to, Mr. Delano turned the meeting over to Mr. Johnson who made a short talk on Counterfeits. This covered a few of the highlights of the more noted counterfeiters and included altered coins in this classification. Mr. Johnson displayed a few "questionable" coins, illustrating differences in the type of manufacture and the degree of accuracy attained by the fabricators. Hugh O. Griffin added some very interesting comments on the subject, after which a short recess was called.

Following the intermission the featured speaker of the evening was introduced, Randolph Trow of the local office of the FBI. Mr. Trow made a most entertaining talk on the formation and duties of his organization. He gave us an outline of some of the famous as well as some of the lesser known cases handled by the G-Men. After telling us of the intensive training an agent has to take he opened the floor to questions on general subjects. These he answered, elaborating on them, until at the curfew hour of 11 p.m. questions were still forthcoming. His inexhaustible fund of interesting information and his genial good nature went far toward making this program the most enjoyable we have had for some time.

The exhibits of the evening were varied and well chosen. More than 80 per cent of those attending displayed some coins in the exhibit.

— JAMES A. JOHNSON, JR.,
Secretary pro tem

ORANGE COUNTY COIN CLUB

The 163rd regular monthly meeting was held in the Brea Woman's Clubhouse on December 26th with President Rich presiding. Due to the demands of the holiday season there were only 53 members and 7 guests present, the smallest attendance for this club for the past several years.

Program Chairman, Dr. C. Glenn Curtis, presented Leonel C. Panosh of San Diego as the speaker for the evening. By way of introduction, Dr. Curtis pointed out that Lew had many accomplishments to his credit as a numismatist. Not only is he a master collector of various media of exchange, but he has succeeded in reaching the top office of President of the California State Numismatic Association and at the same time had himself elected to the Board of Governors of the ANA. However, said Dr. Curtis, as a member of the Orange County Coin Club, Lew has yet to reach the highest political pinnacle in that club, the office of president, which has finally been won by the great Doctor after thirteen years of membership and striving to reach that goal. In his usual polite and diplomatic way, Lew indicated that he was only waiting for a crisis when the club would need to draft him.

In response to the invitation for him to appear, the speaker chose to repeat the subject on which he spoke to this club some time ago, "Coins of Malta." As before, he traced the history of the Grand Masters of Malta from the time of the Crusades, 1088-1292 AD, until the year 1800 when Malta was taken as a possession of Great Britain. Then he described the coinage instituted by this order in 1521 while it resided on the island of Rhodes. The early coins were made similar to the coins made in Italy. They consisted of copper, silver, and gold coins, all with inscriptions of a strictly religious nature. Later coins followed the evolution of coinage in Europe where larger and thicker coins came into use. There were 51 Grand Masters and most of these had coins struck which can be attributed to their own particular time in office.

The speaker displayed many specimens of Malta coins, explaining that they are difficult to obtain and can be had mostly from collectors and dealers in Europe.

Following this interesting and instructive discourse on a subject not commonly known in this country, the meeting recessed for refreshments and then proceeded with the usual auction of coins offered by members and sold by auctioneer Joe Steele.

Secretary

TRENTON NUMISMATIC CLUB—The fourth meeting was held February 4th, with Walter Caines presiding. The attendance was 21 members and four guests.

The business meeting was made as short as possible for the benefit of our renowned speaker, Colonel Joseph Moss, President of the A.N.A.

Colonel Moss gave an address in which he welcomed our newly-formed club in affiliation to the A.N.A. He then told us about the organization of the A.N.A., how it first started when 25 people met in Chicago. Now its membership is over 10,000 with 80 per cent in the United States.

He then gave us personal details about each officer, stressing the point that they all worked for the love of numismatics rather than the small pay they receive, considering they are all individuals whose time is quite valuable.

Colonel Moss then described the A.N.A. library and stressed the point that members had free access to the very valuable works simply by paying postal charges. He further brought out another advantage of membership in the association in that A.N.A. clubs might have the use of slides of sets of coins made available to them by the Visual Education Committee.

He brought out further important advantages in being a member in the A.N.A. such as prestige, invaluable "Numismatist Magazine", and the market place for buyers and sellers of coins by its advertisers.

He concluded by an interesting resume of his own life as a numismatist starting with coins of the Bible and later branching out "all over the lot."

He gave us a treat by exhibiting a few gems from his collection such as:

1. 1794 gold coin from Mexico, which he purchased at the A.N.A. convention last summer at Phoenix, Ariz. It was a doubloon, brilliant uncirculated, with proof surface, of King Charles the fourth of Spain.

2. The second coin he showed us was minted about 1492 for King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella of Spain.

3. The third was a gold coin of Brazil, of Emperor Peter the second. Peter came to Phila. in 1876 to attend the one hundredth anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. He is the only Emperor ever to visit the U.S.A.

4. The fourth coin was issued in Scotland about 1601. The obverse is a portrait of King James the sixth who was later King James the first of England. During his reign the Holy Bible was translated into the English language.

Colonel Moss then congratulated the club on being the youngest club to join the A.N.A. and offered any help which he or the A.N.A. could give.

Secretary

WASHINGTON NUMISMATIC SOCIETY

—The February meeting was held on February 4th at the National Museum and a total of 45 members and visitors turned out to hear Dr. Paul S. Szego talk about the beginnings of coinage.

Dr. Szego, of the Army Map Service, is a former professor of history and presented his story of coinage from the barter days to the classical period of Persia, Greece and Rome in such a way as to make the events seem almost the happenings of yesterday and the people seem like old acquaintances. When he stopped, the audience was not ready, and they could have listened for much longer. Dr. Emanuel Newman expressed the thanks of the society.

This good attendance for the second 1952 meeting is gratifying to the new officers and may be traced to greater publicity about society affairs in the new club bulletin and a follow-up campaign by an aggressive committee headed by Eldridge Jones. Jones has also been named the National Coin Week chairman for the society and is organizing his helpers to attempt to better our 6th place standing in the A.N.A. competition of last year.

Three new members were voted into the society making a total of five so far for the year. The new members were Dr. Szego (who called his talk his "maiden speech"), Reynolds C. Wiggins and G. Ross Popkins.

In addition to the Persian, Achaean, Athenian, Corinthian and Macedonian coins used by Dr. Szego to illustrate his talk there were other exhibits. Mr. Dyson gave a preview of coins and notes he will have out for Coin Week, including colonial notes of Virginia, colonial coins, and large cents and half cents. Mr. Peterson displayed and briefly described his own complete set of the two series of coins put out by Pope Pius IX, one series based on the scudo and the other on the lira.

The meeting adjourned about 10 o'clock and for another hour Dr. Szego was busy with questions his talk had inspired.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY COIN CLUB— 43rd meeting held January 17th at the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce office with 15 present.

The city of San Bernardino recreation department is sponsoring a hobby show and our coin club has been asked to participate. Many members present brought or pledged exhibits for this affair, which is to be held later in the month.

The program of the evening was supplied by the ANA Visual Slides No. 8 on ancient coins. This was the first half of a two-section series on ancient coins—going through Philip II 336 B.C. It is hard to realize how these coins made 2500 years ago can be just as beautiful as our finest coins of today. The photography in this series is really fine. Different color backgrounds are used to bring out the highlights in each coin. We especially enjoyed reviewing the coins of Syracuse.

Exhibits of the evening included:

(1) English 1937 Coronation set in presentation case and U.S. 1804 Cent by George Fisher.

(2) Uncirculated Washington Quarter and Peace Dollar sets by Bland Haydon.

(3) Ancient coins of beauty by Bryan Burke.

(4) Indian Head Gold type set by Opie Arnold.

(5) U.S. Half Dollars—Early and Recent by Herb Feinberg.

(6) Broken Bank notes by George Riggen.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to the Advertising Manager, Burton H. Saxton, P. O. Box 548, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Make all remittances payable to the American Numismatic Association.

Advertising Contracts: These are available, covering periods of three, six and twelve consecutive months for display space as listed in the above Table of Rates, and are necessary if the schedule of reduced rates is to apply. If the advertiser prefers not to accept the Contract, such reduced rates will be granted only upon payment in advance for the period desired.

References: All advertisers who submit copy for the first time are definitely requested to furnish therewith banking or other satisfactory references.

Available Space Units: Practical considerations restrict the allocation of space units to those listed in the above table. Any amount of space (subject to any current limitations) is available IF these units or a combination of them are used. Unless contrary instructions are given, copy will be cut if found too full for the space designated; if no designation is made, it shall be understood the amount of space is left to the discretion of the Advertising Manager.

Deadline: Copy must be received by the Advertising Manager by the 7th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue.

Illustrations: All cuts to be provided by the advertisers, care being used to see that they do not exceed in measurement the limits of the space unit desired. The Advertising Manager will, when requested, have suitable cuts made from furnished photographs.

Miscellaneous: Please furnish copy separately from your letter of transmittal. Advertising copy included in the body of a letter usually has to be re-typed for the printer; this should not be required.

Advertising copy should be prepared with minute care. Carelessness invites error — something which both advertiser and publisher are anxious to avoid. Use only one side of the sheet. Send originals, not carbon copies. Mail auctions not acceptable.

In the absence of an Advertising Contract, when payment in advance for any number of consecutive months has been made, if change of copy has not been received by the 7th of the month for the next issue, the latest preceding advertisement will be run.

Advertisers may use a trade name, but, except in the case of an incorporated concern, the name of the proprietor or of some other responsible person connected with the firm must also appear in the advertisement.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

Payments may be made in equal monthly instalments, if desired.

ber No. 100 of the W.N.S. and a former president during his World War II stay in Washington. Sixty A.N.A. members in the area, as well as all W. N. S. members, received notice of the meeting and forty-nine members and visitors turned out for Colonel Moss.

In addition the membership committee presented two applicants and they were voted into the society. Applications were also given to some of the A.N.A. visitors who expressed the desire to join the W.N.S. Announcement was made of the 1952 attendance campaign whereby Eldridge Jones will guide his committee in personally contacting all members who missed half the 1951 meetings or miss in 1952.

Colonel Moss spoke generally about the A.N.A. and the advantages of belonging to the National society, about The Numismatist magazine and its growth from 1892 to the present, about National Coin Week, about A.N.A. Club Representatives, and about A.N.A. relations with coin dealers through Numismatist advertising and Business Manager controls. His talk was interesting and well-received.

Colonel Moss also exhibited and commented on several of his own gold coins: a Christopher Columbus item, a double-ducats of Spain of 1492; a 10,000 Reis of Brazil of 1855; a 1601 coin of the king who revised the Bible, James of Scotland; a gold piece of Charles IV of Spain; and a 100 Soles 1951 gold piece of Peru, one of the latest issued by any country.

Dr. Paul Szego, a specialist in ancient, told about starting his collecting in Budapest and exhibited and spoke about eight of his beautiful Greek pieces, including an incused stater and some electrum coins.

George Vanderwende announced that the Treasury sale of 1951 sets of U. S. coins would be discontinued in March. Edward Welkert told about using his A.N.A. Directory as a vacation guide book this last summer to choose stopping places on his 4,000-mile trip. Many of his evenings were spent with A.N.A. members, swapping coins and stories.

Other exhibits included a large picture-frame display of 28 treasury notes by Eldridge Jones, large cents (all but 1799) by William Atwood, complete set of Confederate States notes by Edward Welkert, a type collection of national bank notes by Shirley Leachman, and six Chinese silver yuan notes by Harry Atkinson.

WESTCHESTER COIN CLUB — The 210th meeting was called to order by President Kenneth Marsden at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday evening, January 15th in the New Rochelle YMCA.

After a very short business meeting the "anything but coins" auction got under way. Walt Tanca assisted our auctioneering president, handling very nearly 200 items. Bill Pearson and Mrs. Mahoney had their hands full keeping records and acting as money-changers.

An extremely enjoyable evening was topped off with a nice treat arranged by our refreshment committee.

— L. F. BARCUS, Secretary

WESTERN MARYLAND COIN CLUB — The January meeting was held in the George Williams Room of the Central YMCA, Cumberland, Maryland, January

2 at 8 p.m. There were ten members and two guests present. The meeting was called to order by President Martin L. Johnson.

One of our guests for this meeting was Winfield H. Adam, who is Secretary of the YMCA, Cumberland, Maryland, and who gave a most interesting talk. He illustrated his talk with a collection of coins which he picked up in his travels around the world as purser on a merchant ship. His talk was highly interesting and he gave accounts of how he acquired the various coins and the significance which he attaches to them. The Coin Club members extended him a rising vote of appreciation and invited him back.

Other displays were half-cents by Martin L. Johnson and gold dollars by Holmes H. Cessna and gold eagles by Luther Hutter.

— G. H. HETZEL, Secretary

WICHITA COIN CLUB — President Fred Cooley opened the 58th meeting in the ping-pong room of the KG&E building.

A fine display of mint sets, dimes, nickels, and gold, mounted in plastic holders was displayed by Mr. McGinnis. Ben Mires also displayed his fine collection of U.S. general coins, ranging from half cents up to dollars and commemorative halves. Lewis Reagan announced that the slides which were to be shown at this meeting would be held over until the February meeting, due to the fact that he was unable to get them here in time for the January meeting. Lewis Reagan had many fine specimens of photo copies of early fractional currency, the sets being in fine, crisp condition.

— H. G. SPORE, Secretary

WORCESTER COUNTY NUMISMATIC SOCIETY — On January 11, 1952, the first meeting of the new year opened at 8 p.m. with 33 members and guests present. President Earl Bellis presided. Mr. Bellis spoke on what is planned for the next few months. He also stated that during each meeting a few minutes will be given one person to tell what he or she wants to acquire or to sell. Three applications were read to be acted upon at next month's meeting. Mr. Bellis reported that one of the local radio stations is producing a program every Sunday afternoon entitled "Money of the World." The interesting part of this announcement is the fact that one of our members is co-sponsor.

Mr. Bellis then introduced George Fuld, a member of the club who was the guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Fuld took for his subject, "Washington Medals." Mr. Fuld displayed 75 or more Gold, Silver and Copper Washington Medals including the Roman Head Cent among one of the rarest, also one of the first medals struck in this country, "The Manley Medal."

After closing the meeting coffee and doughnuts were served by Mrs. Bellis and Mrs. Gow.

Displayed in addition to Mr. Fuld's Washington Medals were Half Cents by Mr. Cadwell, Paper Currency by Miss Cloues, Medals by Mr. Capostagno and newspaper clippings showing pictures of machines made in Worcester, Mass. Machines that make the paper on which Paper Currency is printed. This last display was shown by Mr. Bellis.

A Coin of Distinction

While I do not make published offers for specific coins, I would suggest that you write or phone me when you have anything worthwhile to sell. You'll be pleased, as thousands — yes, thousands — of collectors have been pleased, with my numismatic service these past fifty years.

And speaking of "offers" — here is an offer I am making this month:

A BEAUTIFUL BRILLIANT PROOF
U. S. QUARTER DOLLAR
OF 1827 — ORIGINAL
PRICE, $2250.00

As you know, this is one of the very rarest of all U. S. silver coins. There are fewer 1827 Quarter Dollars than there are 1804 Dollars!

Write me whether you want to buy or sell.

Money Talks

BIG CINCINNATI AUCTION CATALOGUE getting its last once-over just about now and should be in the mails in about 10 days.

FRIDAY NIGHT, MAY 2nd, will see the first session with the windup on Saturday afternoon, May 3rd.

$100,000.00 IN RARE COINS and paper money will feature many rarities in U. S. GOLD from the I. E. Chadwick Collection.

PAPER MONEY will also be prominently catalogued and should attract many to the convention.

DR. C. A. DARNELL'S LARGE CENTS and other U. S. coins will certainly please many bidders.

FOREIGN GOLD and Silver, Ancients, etc., etc. In short, a real swell sale — the biggest of the year, we think.

CINCINNATI COMMITTEE headed by Sol (P. T. Barnum) Kaplan is planning a convention, in his words, "second-to-none."

CENTRALLY LOCATED, and drawing from the 2 big Associations (Central States and Ohio State), this big show promises to beat all attendance records.

PLAN TO ATTEND — CINCINNATI — MAY 2-3-4.

A REMINDER OF THE AUCTION

At the CONVENTION of the CALIFORNIA STATE NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

April 4-6, Santa Rosa

If your copy of WITTLIN'S Sale Catalogue has not already been requested, please ask for it at once.

Besides having some 1600 lots of U. S. coins, from Half Cents to Dollars, and a good proportion of ancient and foreign coins, it features a gradual replacement of conventional grading, with cypher.

Comments and criticism of this experiment, suggestions of improvements, or even of different methods will be highly appreciated and considered as a service, not only to the cataloguer, but to the hobby itself.

This, or any later catalogue is free, whether or not you intend to submit bids; you will be welcome to a copy, and we hope it will prove interesting and informative. It will deserve a careful inspection.

Closing date for bids on the public sale is April 3rd; and for the mail bid sale is April 21st; therefore we urge prompt attention. If you use air mail, we shall also, when desirable. A self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring you a free list of prices realized.

We purchased a number of nice collections during January. Here is what some of the sellers had to say:

Jan. 5th 1952: Thank you for your check, it has been a pleasure to do business with you and we find your offer for the coins quite acceptable.

— C. W. Guildner M. D., Hastings, Nebr.

Jan. 13th 1952: Received your check today and am very well pleased with the transaction. Thank you for a very fair and prompt deal.

— James C. Anderson, West Glacier, Montana

Jan. 20th 1952: I have received your check and accept it with thanks. It has been a pleasure to do business with you. I especially appreciate your promptness. Your appraisal of the coins compared very favorably with any I had received. If in the future I have occasion to deal with a coin company, you may be sure it will be the Overton Coin Co.

— Joe Tatum, Columbia, S. C.

There it is folks, cash by return airmail, subject to your approval. Please write before shipping, as we reserve the right to limit quantities, or to cease buying without notice.

The RYAN Collection of Roman silver and bronze coins, to be sold at the end of March, is especially rich in early Imperial denarii, a large number of which were acquired at the Imhoof-Blumer, Vautier, Evans and Haeberlin sales. We would advise Collectors not to neglect this opportunity, which may not occur again for many years, of acquiring such fine specimens, and respectfully invite their enquiries.

Something for Everyone

While United States coins are emphasized in the Numismatic Scrapbook Magazine, each issue is a "balanced" issue with a variety of subjects from ancients to next month's wooden nickel issues. If you are actively buying or selling . . . the Numismatic Scrapbook Magazine is a "must" . . . its advertising columns are truly America's Numismatic Market-Place.

If you are interested . . .

In building up a really nice set of brilliant uncirculated Commemorative Half Dollars, at lowest possible prices, and can raise as little as $5.00 to $10.00 a month for that purpose, then you should get acquainted with my Approval Shipments.

Just let me know two things: which Commemorative Half Dollars you already have, and if you want to collect a COMPLETE set of 130 coins, or the TYPE set of 47 coins. Your first Approval Shipment will come by return mail. No obligation, except of course to pay for coins you keep. Better get started right away; it may be too late after 60 years!

(Also, I am always in the market to buy Comm. Half Dollars, one coin or 1000, and pay highest prices.)

COINS OF THE WORLD

Twentieth Century Issues

1901-1950

FOURTH EDITION

Containing a complete list of all the coins issued by the countries of the whole world, their colonies or dependencies, with illustrations of most of the types and the average valuation among collectors and dealers. The most important general numismatic work of modern times, in demand all over the world.

The Fourth Edition has an increase of twenty percent in the number of pages and hundreds of new illustrations. Many countries have been entirely rewritten and others extensively revised. Adjusted valuations have been made wherever necessary. The editorial work on this book has necessitated enormous correspondence with the working mints of the world and important collectors and experts in many countries. Many new countries or colonial possessions appear with coinages for the first time and particular care has been taken to fully illustrate them.

Large octavo cloth about 300 pages with nearly 2000 illustrations.
